

GERMANY OFFERS MORTGAGES ON INDUSTRY AS A GUARANTEE FOR PAYING ANNUITIES

Solid Front Offered By Allies

BRUSSELS, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—A solid and united front by France, Belgium and Great Britain and Italy on the question of reparations, with France and Belgium agreed on a policy regarding the Ruhr, appears to be forecast in consequence of a meeting here today between the allied representatives.

Germany always has asserted that the reparations was far beyond her ability to pay. In counter-proposals she has offered various sums, all of them far below the total set forth on the original demand. In addition she has lodged against her lender stipulations which the allies and particularly France, have refused point-blank to consider.

Insufficient guarantees that Germany would make good her promise, always have been pointed out by France as good reason for that country declining to give full consideration to her offers.

Germany's first offer was thirty billion gold marks ($7,500,000,000) payable at the rate of $240,000,000 annually for five years, with a new arrangement of liquidation to be worked out after that period. The offer was conditional on Upper Silesia being awarded to Germany and the restoration of Germany's commercial privileges throughout the world.

Her second tender was almost identical with the first as regards the amount. She also agreed to pay the equivalent of a 12 per cent tax on exports.

In April, 1921, came an offer of 200,000,000,000 gold marks one billion of which was to be held immediately and the remainder to be liquidated in annuities running over a long period of time, ultimately bringing the total with accrued interest, up to 200,000,000,000 marks. A large international loan to Germany was contemplated in this offer. It was made in a note addressed to President Harding for transmission to the allies. Secretary of State Hughes informed Germany that the United States had found itself unable to reach the conclusion that the proposal affords a basis for discussion acceptable to the allies.

Then, in January, 1923, came the famous meeting of the allied plenipotentiaries in Paris at which the reparations differences between these officials became more accentuated. The British and French were agreed on a reparations figure of fifty billion gold marks and also on the question of comprehensive financial control. They were in direct opposition on the question of penalties, France desiring to seize guarantees along the Rhine and in the Ruhr, while Great Britain did not desire any further occupation of German territory except in the case of some future default by Germany.

A few days later France, accompanied by the Belgians and some Italian forces, entered the Ruhr. Chancellor Cuno announced in the Reichstag that Germany's obligations would cease to be discharged in further direct dealings with the "treaty breaking powers."

The last offer made by Germany was for a total indemnity payment of 200,000,000,000 gold marks. All the allies immediately reject it.

Two Women Claim Same Child

CHICAGO, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—A parallel to the case which King Solomon was called upon to decide, faces a Chicago judge today. Two women here say they gave birth to the same child.

A girl five years old whom both call Leona, is being closely guarded at the home of Mrs. Nicholas Lenz, wife of a druggist, to prevent the other "mother" from taking her. Mrs. Lenz says she can furnish positive proof that the girl was born to her in Chicago.

Mrs. Julia Warsena says she has a birth record certifying that Leona was born to her in Poland and that she gave the baby to Mrs. Lenz to keep for her for a few weeks.

Today Mrs. Warsena plans to institute habeas corpus proceedings to have Leona brought into court and the case settled by legal authority. She has charged that the child's life has been threatened when she attempted to take her back.

Mrs. Lenz says she will never relinquish Leona.

7 Killed, Over 100 Wounded In Rioting In Leipzig

BERLIN, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Seven persons were killed and more than one hundred wounded in yesterday's disorders at Leipzig, it is announced in special dispatches from that city today. The dead include one policeman, while there are fifteen policemen among the wounded, 37 of whom are in a serious condition.

The demonstration was in protest against the Ruhr occupation and the insufficiency of the unemployment doles. Some twenty thousand persons, it is said, took part.

The demonstration was the climax of a number of minor parades and open air meetings which had occurred during the two days previous.

Toward the close of those gatherings it is stated, crowds of the youthful, unruly element suspected of including some communists, began stirring up agitation.

The police declare that when they tried to suppress this a shot was fired from the crowd. After vainly trying to disperse the gathering by shooting into the air, they shot directly at the rioters. Mounted police and other reinforcements soon afterwards succeeded in restoring order.

Riots In Car Strike

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Riots in which shots were fired and stones thrown marked the traction strike here early today. Cars were abandoned in the streets by their crews when bombarded by stones. Shots by the company guards failed to stop the mob.

Company officials said they would appeal for state troops.

Opposed To League

MADISON, WIS., June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The state senate yesterday adopted a resolution denouncing any attempt of the United States to enter the League of Nations or to be associated with the world court.

Bootleggers Are Invading United States From Canada

(Copyright, 1923, By The U. P.)
(Copyrighted 1923, In Canada)
ROUSE POINT, N. Y., June 7.—(By the United Press)—The amount of liquor crossing the Canadian border today is limited only by the amount run runners believe they can dispose of at a profit. The run runners are more concerned with the market than the source of supply or difficulties of getting it across. From Rouses Point to Covington, a stretch of 60 miles, a bootleggers' invasion of the United States is in full swing. The federal prohibition agents are outnumbered 100 to 1. The smugglers working in relays through scores of house stores which dot the territory west of Matineville and Lascote, Quebec, are pouring hundreds of auto loads of every kind of liquor into New York state. Little of this Canadian liquor is finding its way to New York City. The New York "hard stuff" is coming from the West Indies and British Isles as the Canadian bootleggers cannot compete with the low cost of all water transportation enjoyed by the latter.

Confesses Shortage

CLEVELAND, O., June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—George E. Wilks, former assistant manager of the Newburg branch of the Cleveland Trust Company, was under arrest today, charged with grand larceny which bank officials say will total $96,000, although the warrant specified but $3,000.

Bond was fixed at $25,000.

According to Harris Creech, president, and Colonel Leonard P. Ayres, a vice president of the bank, Wilks has confessed he took $96,000 from the accounts of two real estate companies, the Cranwood Land Company and the Cranwood Estates Company, for which he also acted as bookkeeper.

Wilks resigned from the bank about March 15 and it was shortly after that date that shortages were discovered, officials said. The $3,000 named in the warrant, represents one of forty similar transactions, according to Russell Becker, auditor for the United States Guaranty Company, which he declares will be the sole loser.

Wilks was arrested last night. He is 31 years old and married.

Historical Pageant

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—A day crowded with activity was in prospect today with preparations for the historical pageant and a concert to be held at American League Park by the massed bands of all temples, led by Noble John Philip Sousa, as one of the features of the day's program.

There also were scheduled additional air service, cavalry and field artillery stunts for the entertainment of the visitors. Social functions included a dinner to the new imperial potentate, C. V. Drydenman, elevated to that office by the imperial council yesterday. The council was holding its final session today.

The historical pageant along the "Road to Mecca," and through the "Garden of Allah" in front of the White House, tonight is to be followed by the dance of the states, with a section of Pennsylvania avenue, from the capitol to the White House, allotted to each delegation.

A spectacular brilliant in coloring was furnished in a huge parade of uniformed nobles last night. President and Mrs. Harding viewed the parade from their stand for four hours before the entire parade had passed.

Wets Score Victory In Wisconsin Assembly

Poison Fells Many At Wedding

Mr. & Mrs. Conrad Kissel

MADISON, WIS., June 7.—(By the United Press)—The Wisconsin assembly striking the first western blow at absolute prohibition today approved the Tucker bill to repeal the state enforcement law and send it to congress. The vote of approval was 47 to 43. The question of final passage in the assembly is expected to be decided in favor of wets by virtue of the two 47-to-43 votes favorable to the measure today.

Shortly before the approval and engagement vote, the assembly refused to kill the repeal by an identical ballot. After final passage, the measure would then go to the senate which has killed a half dozen or less drastic anti-prohibition proposals. A hard fought battle of two hours preceded the wet victory. Proposal for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment was defeated 35 to 37, the assembly referring the bill to its judiciary committee, where it will be amended to provide a referendum on the question to modify the Volstead act and providing for a memorial to congress. A resolution, congratulating Governor Al Smith for leadership in "leading the movement to return to the constitution of our fathers" was introduced by Assemblyman Lindahl, wet floor leader. It failed to get the two-thirds majority necessary to get immediate consideration, the ballot count being 47 for and 30 against, and it was referred to the committee. It will come up for consideration next week.

The repeal will be placed on the assembly calendar next Wednesday, when a vote on final passage in lower house will be taken.

In the meantime prohibition forces will mobilize to attempt its death in the senate. They will attempt to enlist the moral force of Robert La Follette and Governor Blaine by convincing them it is too drastic.

Two Killed In Storm; Heat Toll Mounts

COLUMBUS, O., June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Two lives were lost last night in a heavy thunder and lightning storm which broke the heat wave which has gripped Ohio the past week and taken a toll of four lives. Four more deaths by drowning indirectly due to the heat, have been reported.

Flapjack Maker Heir To Fortune

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—William Oldham, who makes flapjacks in true western style in the window of an eating house here, put aside his white coat and apron forever today, having fallen heir to $150,000 from a relative in England. Next week he intends to travel in easy stages across the continent to California. There he will take a ship to London via the Panama Canal.

"I want to get some of that old English ale," Oldham said today.

Neutral Inquiry On Reparations Asked

LONDON, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The new reparations note which Ambassador St. Hamer will present to Lord Curzon this afternoon, is considered as offering a distinct advantage over the former note, but it is expected to be disappointing to the French as it is understood to mention a specific amount of reparations.

Proud Mistress Of The Skies A Twisted Mass

DAYTON, O., June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—A twisted mass of blackened frame-work, the army dirigible, TC-1, once proud mistress of the skies, today lay at the base of a steel anchor tower at Wilbur Wright Field, wrecked by an explosion, and fire, during a severe electrical storm last evening. Two men were injured when they jumped from the doomed craft to earth, a distance of forty feet.

A military board of investigation, headed by Major Harold H. Strauss, McCook Field, commander of the ill-fated TC-2 which was burned at San Antonio, Texas, last year, has been appointed to determine the cause of the accident.

Sergeant Harry Barnes, Scott Field, Illinois, and A. C. Maranville, Akron, Ohio, representative of the Goodyear Company which built the ship, the two men aboard the ship, who jumped, are in local hospitals. Barnes sustained a broken ankle, while one of Maranville's ankles was crushed.

The dirigible arrived over Dayton late yesterday afternoon, coming from Scott Field with a crew of ten men aboard, commanded by Lieutenant Clyde Kuntz. Barnes and Maranville remained aboard after the ship had been moored to the steel mast.

It is believed the ship, caught in the wind, swung around and struck another steel tower. The explosion and fire which followed, it is believed was caused when the bag, highly charged with electricity, came in contact with the steel towers. The ship was destroyed within a few seconds. A flash and loud noise was followed by a burst of flame and soon afterwards the burning craft fell to the ground.

Takes College Degree Home To Husband And Her Children

NEW YORK, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Obstacles to some folks were incentives to Mrs. Katherine Bouton Clay of Newark, so Mrs. Clay received a degree of bachelor of arts from Barnard College yesterday and took her sheepskin home to show to her husband and three children.

Mrs. Clay's cultural education was interrupted in 1909, when after two and a half years at Vassar, she married Clifford Clay, a writer for trade journals, and until two years ago she was too much occupied rearing her family to prepare a thesis.

The new turn to an old simile that "they're packing sardines as tightly as subway passengers," was a reality for her. She did most of her studying hanging onto a strap.

Curio-Seekers Caused More Damage To Plane Than Tree

PAULSBORO, N. J., June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Georges Barbot, French pilot of the "flier" airplane, announced today that he had temporarily abandoned his flights in this country. Although his machine suffered little damage yesterday when the craft plunged into a tree near here on an attempt-flight from Garden City, L. I., to Washington, D. C., curio seekers further disabled the mechanical flying marvel Barbot had brought to this country. The little airplane met its accident when the engine stalled in the face of a strong gust of wind. Barbot lost control and before he could regain it, the "flier" struck a tree and ended the experimental flight.

Barbot surveyed the tiny craft and saw only the left wing had been damaged. Then he said he would take his machine back to New York, make necessary repairs and continue his flights.

The Frenchman however, had not counted on the army of curio seekers. The wings were cut and parts taken from the motor and when he learned this there were tears in his eyes. He made a hurried trip to the field, where the machine was moored and after scrutinizing the work of the vandals, he said he would no longer be able to use his ship.

Barbot's present intention is to go back to France and bring over a similar machine. The flier spent the night with Joseph Voros, a Frenchman.

Better Homes Week Inspiration To Buyers; Second Sale Made; Yost Buys Wertz Home

Another of the Better Homes Week homes has been sold, the second one this week to be sold having been purchased by Loren Yost, well known employee of the Selby Shoe company. He bought the Wertz Realty company's home at 1036 Twentieth street, and the consideration was $8,200. Possession will be given at the close of the Better Homes Week.

Just two days ago Mr. and Mrs. George Wurster bought the Bauer property at 922 Second street, it also being one of the Better Homes Week homes. Only one of the three remains unsold, the Stockham property on Kinney's Lane, and a number of prospective buyers are looking it over.

GRATEFUL FOR KIND TREATMENT

Mrs. C. M. Barcus, of Meridian, Miss., who underwent a surgical operation for acute appendicitis three weeks ago has been dismissed from Schirman hospital, having recovered from the effects of the ordeal. Mrs. Barcus has resumed her work as manager of a force of solicitors who are making a house-to-house canvass of the city for the Kellogg company. She expressed appreciation of the kind treatment she had received here and declares she will never forget Portsmouth people as she says they know how to treat a stranger within their gates.

MAY PUT BAN ON SQUARE DANCE

Members of the city Council have received so many complaints about the square dances being held in Morse hall, Third and Washington streets, that Safety Director St. Straus will make an investigation. He indicated today that he may ban these dances in the future.

Cyclist Hurt When Run Down By Auto

Lawrence Hannus, 13, son of Charles Hannus, 1922 Grandview avenue, suffered multiple bruises about the body Thursday noon, when a bicycle he was riding and an automobile, driven by John E. Williams, collided at Brown and Jackson streets. Hannus' ambulance took the lad to Mercy hospital where it was found that no bones were broken. He will be able to go to his home Friday.

Pick Most Homelike Home, Write About It; Your Reward Is Fine Prize; Get Busy

Summer Term

Portsmouth College Of Business

Will Open June 11

Session 8 A. M. To 1 P. M.

Electric Fans and Ice Water to keep you cool

Call 882 for information about enrollment

Which of the three Better Homes Week is the most homelike and livable? If you pick the right one and write a story about it not over 750 words you will receive a handsome prize.

Isn't that fair enough? Of course it is. Well, then get busy, very busy as these articles must be mailed to the Sun-Times Home Beautiful editor not later than June 15 at 2 P. M. These papers will be judged by Mrs. William H. Schwartz, president of the Woman's City Club; Mrs. W. A. Quinn, president of the Woman's Literary Club and Mrs. James Bannon. To the women over 18 years of age, writing the best article will be given a solid mahogany fireproof safe now on display in the Stockham home, Kinney's Lane.

Realizing that there are many who might not wish to compete for this prize, the furniture men have decided to give three beautiful and costly prizes to the persons counting the correct or nearest correct number of articles in the three homes being used for "Home Beautiful" Week, namely the Wertz house, 1036 Twentieth street, Bauer house, 922 Second street and the Stockham house, 1513 Kinney's Lane. To win one of these three prizes it will be necessary for one to visit all three houses and count therein the number of articles in the home. To the one observing the nearest number of correct articles will be given a Walnut tea table, now on display in the Bauer house, Second street; the second nearest correct will be presented with a console table, mirror, displayed at the Wertz house, Twentieth street; the third will receive a junior lamp, displayed at the Stockham home, Kinney's Lane.

The furniture men are elated at the way Portsmouth people are lining up behind "Home Beautiful" Week, but in order to add a little stimulus, they have hit upon the above plan. To compete for the prizes, it should be borne in mind that no one can win more than one prize and all contestants must be women 18 years of age or more. No one connected with the Sun-Times or with the furniture houses will be eligible to compete in this contest, and any papers or answers received therefrom will be discarded by the judges.

It should be known that the prizes offered for the powers of observation as well as the powers of description are high class in every sense of the word and are well worth striving for.

The best descriptive article, will be published in the Sunday issue of the Sun-Times on June 17, or at the earliest date possible. That depending on the report of the judges. However, there is hardly a question but the persons winning the observation contest will be named shortly after the judges meet and the winners named will positively be announced Sunday June 17.

Dry, Dull Hair Made Glossy and Beautiful By Olive Oil Shampoo

Tens of thousands of women now have beautiful hair that was once dry, dull, brittle. They have learned what all hair experts know; that olive oil must be used in the shampoo to leave hair soft and gleaming. You can prove this on your own hair. For you can use a delightful olive oil shampoo cheaply, at home. Get a bottle of PALMOLIVE SHAMPOO at any drug or department store. Follow the simple directions. You will be more surprised than anyone at the rapid improvement in your hair. For this gentle shampoo brings the loveliest softness and sheen to your hair.

Run On A "Real Show"

A "real show" was presented last night by young girls in the backyard of the W. L. Tracy house, 1816 Waller street, and the "show" was such a success that the program will be repeated tonight. There was a real stage, curtain, seats, electric lights, everything that goes to make up a real entertainment. The stage had an abundance of nature scenery including many beautiful roses. The seating capacity of 75 was soon taxed and about 15 persons were standing when the ticket seller refused further admission. Orchestra music was furnished by a Victoria, Mr. Tracy and John and George Keller were the stage hands who assisted the girls in moving the "heavy stage props."

The program included an interesting little playlet entitled "Margaret" which was arranged by the young girls who are as follows: Virginia Tracy, Nell Gableman, Mary Christine Keller, Jean Keller, Katharine Kelsa, Donita Wakefield and Florence Warsaw. In addition several songs and dances were given by the different girls.

Following is the cast for the play: Rainbow/Dance—Virginia Tracy, Ballon Dance—Nell Gableman, Autumn—Jean Keller, Jazzmania—Florence Warsaw, The Flame—Katherine Kelsa, Gypsy Dance—Virginia Tracy and Donita Wakefield, Spring—Mary Christine Keller.

Tennis Results

W. Monroe and Flood were defeated in two straight sets when they met the R. Oakes and Goetz combination on the Trinity tennis court last night in the third match in the men's doubles tournament conducted by Trinity. The scores were 6-2 and 6-3. Tonight Massie and Massie play Glickerson and Hopkins. On Friday evening Davidson and Davidson meet Foley and White.

The following sales were made recently by W. W. Bauer, a local real estate man. Sold John H. Brown's 5 room cottage on Sixth street to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swentzel, who purchased the property for a home. Geo. R. Hummel's 6 room two story home on Fuere to Herman A. Fuchs who purchased the property as an investment. Mrs. Lizzie Willis' 8 room home on Findlay street to L. L. Finney for an investment. Mrs. Willis is moving to Columbus to make that her future home. W. W. Bauer said his beautiful 7 room brick home on Second street which is being used this week as a "Home Beautiful" to Mr. and Mrs. J. George Wurster who will make it their future home.

Boys Collide; One Suffers Broken Collarbone

Wilmer Hunter, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hunter, of 2233 Seventh street suffered a broken collarbone yesterday when he collided with a playmate. Both lads were running and came together with sufficient force to break the left collarbone of Hunter. Dr. A. A. Wilkoff attended the boy and an x-ray was taken by Virgil Fowler.

ALL STRIKES AT THIS BANQUET

The annual banquet for the Selby Bowling League Players will be held this evening at six o'clock in the factory dining room. Marion Prosch will be the toastmaster. In addition to several talks, plans will be made for next year and officers will be elected.

DR. BLACK COMING TO TRINITY

The official board of Trinity church at a recent meeting accepted the opportunity to obtain the services for two Sundays and the week intervening, June 10-17, of the leading evangelist of Methodism, who has specialized in personal work. Dr. Guy Black, head of this department of the Home Mission Board. Dr. Black has made a tremendous impression throughout the church by great results without special meetings. He will preach next Sunday, morning and evening and show the personal workers how to proceed. A great meeting will be put on at the prayer meeting.

The congregation is invited to be much in prayer for the success of this effort and to send to the study all the names of friends in the church who are near to church membership, and interest themselves in their decision for Christ.

The great message of Dr. Black, explaining "salesmanship" for Jesus Christ will be heard Sunday morning and evening.

The Children's Day program will be moved forward to the Sunday school hour and the preparatory members will be received at that time, and all the boys and girls will be baptized who have not formerly been. This demands that there be readiness on the part of parents or children on next Sunday morning. Officers and teachers of the Sunday school should look after the preparatory members of their classes and all who have done the study will be called forward in the roll. Those who have not been in the work will be cared for in later classes.

Cooler Weather Promised

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Slightly cooler weather is promised tonight for the middle Atlantic States and the Upper Ohio Valley, the weather bureau announced today, but no relief is yet in sight from the blistering heat wave which has overspread the rest of the country east of the Mississippi river. Temperatures today were above normal in nearly all parts of the country. Local thunder showers were predicted generally on the eastern seaboard for tonight and Friday, but no hope was held that they would definitely break the heat wave.

Marching Club To Boost Portsmouth

An interesting and busy session of the Rip Roarin' Brigands of Meenatum Temple, D. O. K. K. was held last night at Castle hall following a supper at the hall at six o'clock. A "marching club" was organized with H. Wells Elliott as temporary supervisor. It is the plan of the club to take part in every ceremonial and dokey affair held in nearby cities. By this means the club will be boosting Portsmouth and Scioto county, Pythianism and Dokelem. The club will appear in uniform in parades, and at state meetings and conclaves of Pythians and Dokes.

Simple Home Remedy for Wrinkled Faces

Thousands of the fair sex are spending fortunes in frantic efforts to remove the signs of premature age from their faces. Such women willingly pay almost any amount of money for worthless wrinkle removers, of which there are many. If they only knew it, the most effective remedy imaginable is a simple, harmless lotion which can be made up at home in less than a minute. They have only to get an ounce of pure powdered sassailla and a half pint of witch hazel at the drug store and mix the two. Apply this daily for a while as a refreshing face wash. The effect is almost magical. Even after the first treatment a marked improvement is noticed and the face has a smug, firm feeling that is most pleasing.—advertisement.

All Scouts Must Undergo Examination

Every Boy Scout going to Boy Scout camp on the Little Scioto river will have to undergo a physical examination before he will be admitted to camp. Dr. Gilbert Mckethwait has been named camp physician and he will make examination of all Scouts before they go to camp. The drinking water to be used at the camp is to be analyzed and every precaution taken to prevent disease.

Alumni Banquet Friday Night

The annual Portsmouth high school Alumni banquet will be held in the Portsmouth high school gymnasium Friday night starting at 7:30 o'clock. Clarence G. Selby, who is specializing in industrial medicine at Toledo and formerly of Portsmouth will be the main speaker when the P. H. S. class of 1923 will be welcomed.

An effort is being made by the officers and committee in charge to make this the biggest and best banquet of all. In order to accomplish this it will be necessary for everyone of the Alumni to return their reply card at once so the committee will know how many expect to attend.

After the banquet program there will be dancing in the gym with Journey's orchestra furnishing the music.

Detective Dies in Cincinnati
CINCINNATI, OHIO, June 7.—William H. Brumbaugh, 25 years old, was shot twice by Detective James Hays Tuesday night when in a scuffle, died of his wounds at the General Hospital tonight.

Brumbaugh was shot when Detective Hays and Detective Bullerford started to question him regarding thefts at several grocery stores, and gasoline filling stations recently.

Brumbaugh, although told he could not live, declined to divulge anything concerning thefts.

Chinese Cabinet Resigns; Prisoners Still Held

PEKING, June 7 (By the Associated Press).—The Chinese Cabinet resigned today.

Of Doubtful Effect

WASHINGTON, June 7.—What effect resignation of the Chinese Cabinet will have on the official and political situation of that country was not made clear here today. While unofficially it was regarded as further bodeful of the already badly muddled state of Chinese politics, there was no direct information connecting the resignations with the situation caused by bandit raids in Szechow. These are alleged by many to be part of a political stroke aimed by avaricious leaders with the brigands acting as their pawns. Some officials thought the Cabinet's action would be practically nil.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The State Department today announced it had received a cablegram from Jacob Gould Schurman, American Minister at Peking, which said there was "no definite indication" of how long it would be before American prisoners were released.

Minister Schurman reported that "harmony appears to have been restored to the bandit camp and the captives are not suffering in health, though they are getting somewhat low in spirit."

He also said the International Commission, headed by Brigadier General O'Connor, left Peking for Lincheng last Friday, accompanied by Representative Wainwright of New York, former Assistant Secretary of War, who had arrived in Peking the day previous.

Wainwright's Report.
Mr. Wainwright, the department was informed, returned to Peking today in advance of the commission and reported as follows:

"That the representative of the Government of the Province of Chanting and the bandits appear to have arrived at an agreement by which every bandit who has a rifle or a pistol will be enlisted in the army."

"That the counting of the arms and the preparation of a muster roll or enlistment is proceeding."

"That the bandits are not satisfied with the guarantee of the Government as to their pay, but will be satisfied if Roy Anderson and American citizens, whom they seem to absolutely trust, will guarantee that they will receive their pay for three years, which is the term of enlistment."

Not Sure of All Doctors

The Governor also indicates in his letter that he is not sure that all licensed physicians have a thorough knowledge of diagnosis, but admits that the Medical Board's theory of medical practice is good. On this line, he says, "I wish that all persons licensed to treat the sick and disabled might have a 'thorough' knowledge of diagnosis, as you say they should have. If there are any such persons they should by agreement distribute themselves equally among the people of the world for the good of humanity."

The Governor explains that he attempted to call Secretary Martin on the telephone the day the child's father called him and pleaded tearfully that he be permitted to take his daughter to the jail for treatment by the chiropractor, but failing to reach Martin consulted with Attorney-General Crabbe. He says both he and Crabbe agreed to call the Sheriff at Portsmouth and tell him substantially as he was quoted to the effect that he would permit the child to be brought to the jail and, if necessary, take the doctor to the child's home.

The patient, Virginia Carr, is said to be suffering from tuberculosis of the bone.

SOCIETY

The Eldean Club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wm. Harley on Robinson Avenue. The afternoon was spent doing needle work and at five o'clock refreshments were served. The following members were present: Mrs. John Mickelthwait, Mrs. Claude Clark, Mrs. Harry Elchorn, Mrs. Preston Davenport, Mrs. Flora Banfield and Mrs. William Martin. Motions To Quash Charges

CLEVELAND, OHIO, June 7.—Motions to quash the indictments charging violation of the Volstead law, returned against them in Federal court, were filed today through their attorney by Frank Counts, former Federal Prohibition Agent here; A. Frank Counts, Cleveland attorney; Joseph A. Shearer, former Prohibition Director of Ohio, and Attorney Samuel A. Hoskins, of Columbus.

All of the motions will be heard before Federal Judge Westenhaver next Monday.

The separate motions allege the first count in the indictment charging violation of the prohibition act is "vague and indefinite and does not set forth sufficient facts that enable the defendants properly to assert defense." The second count, charging obstruction of prohibition enforcement, is alleged to "endeavor to charge the same thing as the first." It is said to charge no actual violation of any statute.

Another motion requests that trial be postponed until the April Court term to allow adequate time for preparing defense.

Remus Case Argued

CINCINNATI, OHIO, June 7.—Attorney George E. Remus, convicted for alleged conspiracy to violate the Volstead act and for maintaining a nuisance at the "Death Valley" farm, was the only spectator in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today when the Judges took their seats to hear arguments in the appeal. His associates, also convicted, are making the appeal. The defense counsel is composed of an imposing array of lawyers from St. Louis, New York, Louisville and Cincinnati. At the conclusion of the arguments, Presiding Judge Knapp announced the Court will take the cases under advisement.

Donahey Studies

Plans To Save Big Supply Of Material

COLUMBUS, OHIO, June 7.—After his visit to the London Prison Farm with Welfare Director J. E. Harper, Governor Donahey announced this evening that he would, within a few days, make known a policy which he contemplated pursuing in attempt to save many thousands of dollars' worth of building material for deterioration. Director Harper said there is approximately $50,000 worth of cut stone and much building steel which, if not used, will be worthless. The Administration Building is only partly completed and is said to be deteriorating fast.

The question of providing suitable dormitory for the 150 convicts quartered there also is to be taken up. These now are housed in a wooden structure which, Director Harper says, is a dangerous fire hazard.

Circus Performer Is Given Damages
TOLEDO, OHIO, June 7.—Reno McCree, circus performer, was awarded a verdict of $10,000 against James C. Davis, Director General of Railroads, for injuries received when a Hagenbach and Wallace Circus train, in which he was riding, was wrecked at Ivanhoe, Ind., in June, 1918, by a Federal Court grand jury.

The jury deliberated three hours. Of the total $7,000 was allowed McCree for personal injuries and $12,000 for the loss of the services of his wife, Hettie McCree, another performer. Mrs. McCree recently was awarded a $100,000 verdict in a similar suit.

Shorthorn Breeders Sued as

Bankrupts
TOLEDO, OHIO, June 7.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in Federal Court today against W. C. Rosenberger and Sons, of Tiffin, internationally known as breeders of shorthorn cattle. Debts of the alleged defunct partnership are expected to total $125,000, according to Attorney Charles E. Darr, who filed the petition on behalf of the Stagle Lumber Company, Meyers Bros. and Louis Yochem, all of Tiffin.

Deputy United States Emil Flick will take charge of the proceeds of a sale to be held tomorrow by the Rosenbergers on order of Federal Judge Kilts.

CITY IS ENJOINED

TOLEDO, OHIO, June 7.—Federal Judge Kilts today issued an order permanently restraining the city of Fostoria from enforcing a city ordinance requiring all trains to slow down to four miles an hour while passing through Fostoria. The suit was started by the Toledo and Ohio Central and Big Four Railroads.

Both the tug and barge foundered almost immediately after the crash. Other tugs and small craft rushed to the aid of the men floundering helplessly in the water, and succeeded in rescuing all.

Four of the rescued men were on the tug when the collision occurred. The other ten were on the barge.

Skin Peeling Nature's Aid to New Complexion
Ordinary mercurized wax is a natural beautifier. By flaking off the deadened surface skin, it merely hastens Nature's work. The underlying skin, brought gradually to view, exhibits the healthy youthful color produced by capillary circulation. This because the capillaries are thus brought nearer the surface; also because the new skin is uncolored by dust and dirt. Mercurized wax is to be had at any drug store (an ounce will do), is put on nightly like cold cream, washed off mornings with warm water. Its work usually is completed in from seven to ten days, long enough not to show too marked results from day to day, or cause objectionable detention indoors.—Advertisement.

St. Mary's Commencement Impressive Event

Certificates Given To 17 Graduates; Rev. Herman Delivers Fine Address

Annual commencement exercises for the graduates of St. Mary's high school were held in the P. H. S. auditorium Wednesday night when a large crowd of relatives and friends were present to witness the graduation of the class of 1923. An exceptionally fine musical program was given in addition to the commencement address by Father Joseph J. Herman of Marietta. The graduating class included nine young men and seven young women.

The stage setting for the graduates was different from that which has been used in other commencement exercises this year. The scenery was placed to give the appearance of a large reception room entrance to which was down a flight of several steps at a center entrance open and looking out upon a beautiful garden. Many cut flowers and potted plants in season were used in the decorations of the front of the stage.

The musical program was rendered by St. Mary's orchestra, consisting of about twenty pieces. Several instruments are played by the orchestra. Seniors and school chorus showed that the members had spent many hours in careful study and preparation and the most successful manner in which their musical offerings were given speaks highly of the musical training offered the young people in St. Mary's high school.

The opening numbers of the program by the orchestra were "Aida March" by Verdi, and "William Tell Overture" by Rossini. The high school chorus, including the Seniors, rendered "There Is a Perfume" by Offenbach and "The Nights" by Robert. With the orchestra accompaniment, Lawrence Schuler rendered a violin solo, "Spanish Dance" by Sarasate, and had to return for an encore. Eight Seniors with seven string instruments and a cornet, accompanied by the orchestra, played "Love's Old Sweet Song" by Mollay. Three more selections by the orchestra, "Opera Gema," "Garden of Roses" and "In Lila Time" concluded the musical program before Father T. A. Gobel introduced Father Herman who proved an interesting speaker.

Following the presentation of diplomas by Father T. A. Gobel, the orchestra rendered as the concluding number on the program, "The Heavens are Falling" by Haydn.

Father Herman in his address to these movements most commonly heard is: Parents no longer compel their children to go to church and Sunday school; children are to be assured of religious education, it must be in the public schools. One might argue that this is no step toward union of church and state—but can the followers of minority faiths, Catholics, Jews and non-believers, be convinced of this? They see both movements as drives to standardize religion, compelling minorities to accept the faith of the majority.

Theodore Roosevelt was a man whose Americanism remains unquestioned. He was a God-fearing citizen, a great pillar of support to American institutions, a member of exclusively protestant and patriotic fraternal orders. His thoughts on this subject will bear repeating. In his great speech on "Fear God and take your own part," delivered October 12, 1915, Roosevelt said:

"It is eminently necessary to all of us that we should have able and honest public officials in the nation, in the city, in the state. It we make a serious and resolute effort to get such officials of the right kind... we shall find, as a matter of fact, that the men we thus choose will be drawn from the professors of every creed and from among men who do not adhere to any creed."

"Our nation is founded to perpetuate democratic principles. The principles that each man is to be treated on his worth as a man, without regard to the land of his forefathers and without regard to the creed which he professes. If the United States prove false to these principles of civil and religious liberty, it will have inflicted the greatest blow on the system of free popular government that has ever been inflicted."

"One of the most important things to secure... is the right to hold and express the religious view that best meet his own soul needs. Any political movement directed against any body of our fellow citizens because of their religious creed is a grave offense against American principles and American institutions."

Such a movement directly contravenes the spirit of the Constitution itself.

"Washington and his associates believed that it was essential to the existence of this Republic that there should never be any union of church and state; and such union is particularly accomplished whenever a given creed is aided by the state or when any public servant is elected or defeated because of his creed."

So much for Roosevelt, who ranks with Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln.

If we need more churches and Sunday schools, let's build them. But the public schools, built for and by peoples of all faiths, should be kept safe for their legitimate purposes. And the right of parents who believe education should be conducted along lines differing from those now in use, to establish their own schools for their own children, should be kept inviolate.

Read again that last paragraph quoted from Roosevelt. If there is to be "special privileges to none," then, under the new plan, our school pupils would be divided into dozens of little groups—one group hearing the Protestant Bible, another the Catholic version; teachers reading to one group from Tolstoy, to another from Robt. Ingersoll, and so on. That is the logical result of introducing religion into the public schools.

Let no one delude himself into believing the minority will permit its rights and liberties to be encroached upon. All history shows one continuous procession of minorities being roused to fighting heat by oppression and, in consequence, becoming majorities by right of justice and superior intelligence.

We wish our public schools well. We cheerfully pay our taxes for the support of the public schools, in addition to taxing ourselves for the maintenance of our own parochial schools. We want our public schools to be made as good and as efficient as they can possibly be made. We are proud of our public schools. Why, then, are our schools just as much as they are the schools of any one else. Why should we not be interested in them and wish them well?

But there is one thing that our public schools cannot give us, and that thing we deem of the greatest importance. Our public schools cannot give a religious education to our children.

You might say: "Why not leave religion to the home and to the church and to the Sunday school?" The fact is that the home and the church and the Sunday school are not sufficient. It seems to me Protestants ought to be the very last to make that contention. In this country 90 per cent of our people are not affiliated with any church, profess no particular religion. Does not that alone go to show that the home and the church and the Sunday school are not sufficient? Religion, to be taught effectively, must be taught in the school with the other branches of learning. Children must be placed in a religious environment. Nothing can supply the place of the religious school. We are so thoroughly convinced of this that, in addition to paying our part in the upkeep of the public schools, we spend many millions of dollars annually to maintain our own religious schools, in which we strive to make of our children not only the best of American citizens, but likewise what first and above all else they should be—children of God.

In the classroom our task is not to form the future citizens of an earthly government only, but to mold and fashion souls that they may be found worthy to stand hard by the great white throne of God. No faith, no fear of wasted energy. Men of vision, we reach out beyond the span of mortal years and heard our treasures there, "where neither the rust nor the moth doth consume, and where thieves do not break through nor steal."

Another impression, quite common, but equally groundless, is that which represents the public school as being superior to the private school. Competitive tests, which are held in many parts of the country every year, offer proof to the contrary. Lately New York newspapers reported Catholic pupils of both grade and high schools winning more than 70 per cent of the 254 gold and silver medals awarded in an essay contest by one of the City bureaus. ITS prizes were awarded to Catholic-school students and 70 to pupils of other schools.

(Here are two more interesting news clippings.)

All Essay Prizes Won by Catholic School Pupils

(N. C. W. News Service) WASHINGTON, Ind., May 18.—Students in the local Catholic High School for Boys carried off all the honors in the essay contest held as a part of the Boys' Week Program of the Rotary Club. Cash prizes were offered for the best essays on Good Citizenship and every one of the prizes was awarded to students of the Catholic High School.

The contest was open to all school boys of the city and the winners were the County Superintendent of Schools, the District Attorney, and a prominent attorney. Owing to the recent activities of the Ku Klux Klan in this section there was keen interest in the contest and particularly in the outcome.

(From a Cincinnati Paper.) Catholic Schools Win 10 of 13 Prizes in Essay Contest of Automobile Club

The Catholic high schools of Hamilton County made a splendid record in the "Safety First Essay Contest" conducted by the Cincinnati Automobile Club during the month of April, winning ten of the thirteen prizes offered. The announcement of the result, published last Friday, shows that Paul Saurichter, of St. Xavier High School, won the first prize, twenty-five dollars; John Clark, of St. Xavier High School, second prize, ten dollars; Elizabeth Schrott, of Elder High School, third prize, five dollars. Among the prize winners of the ten one-dollar prizes were: Dolores Huber, of Elder High School; E. A. Steinbicker, of St. Xavier High School; William McCarthy, of St. Xavier High School; Margaret Nabershaus, of Elder High School; Margaret Donagan, of St. Xavier Commercial School; Grace S. Schriver, of Elder High School, and Margaret Finn, of Notre Dame Academy, Reading.

Only this last year (1922) the National Educational Association, an organization composed of men and women public school teachers of America, which met in Boston, promulgated a resolution about the public school, which would not be verifiable, in the same proportion, about the parochial school. But we are not interested in saying a word in depreciation of the public schools. Opponents of the private schools try to tell us that the only real American schools are the public schools. In what way are the public schools the only really or typically American schools? Is it because of their origin? Private and religious schools existed in this republic long before the public schools were ever dreamed of. Is it because they are supported by public monies? Our penitentiaries and our poorhouses are also supported by public monies. Does that make them typically American institutions? Is it because the public schools are more according to the American ideal? This country is essentially a religious and Christian country. We are not a nation of infidels, or atheists, or materialists. We claim to be a religious, even a Christian nation. Our country is built up on Christian principles. Therefore, I unhesitatingly maintain that the religious school is more according to the American ideal. Schools in which the names of God and of Christ are scarcely mentioned are a mere makeshift to meet the situation created by the multiplicity of religions and denominations, but the more American school is the religious school.

The Fathers of the United States declared to the world why it was necessary for the people of this country, in the course of human events, to assume a separate and equal station among the Powers of the earth. First among the reasons advanced for their determination to exercise certain "unalienable rights" with which they had been endowed by their Creator, This Declaration was supplemented by a Constitution, and in 1791 nine amendments defining the rights of the individual were adopted by the States. The very first of these prohibited interferences with the free exercise of religion; the last of the nine, having in mind the "inalienable rights" proclaimed to the world, declared that "the enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

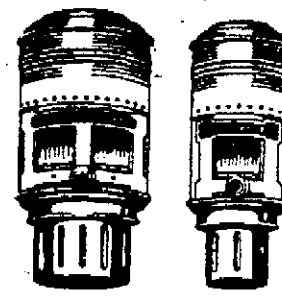

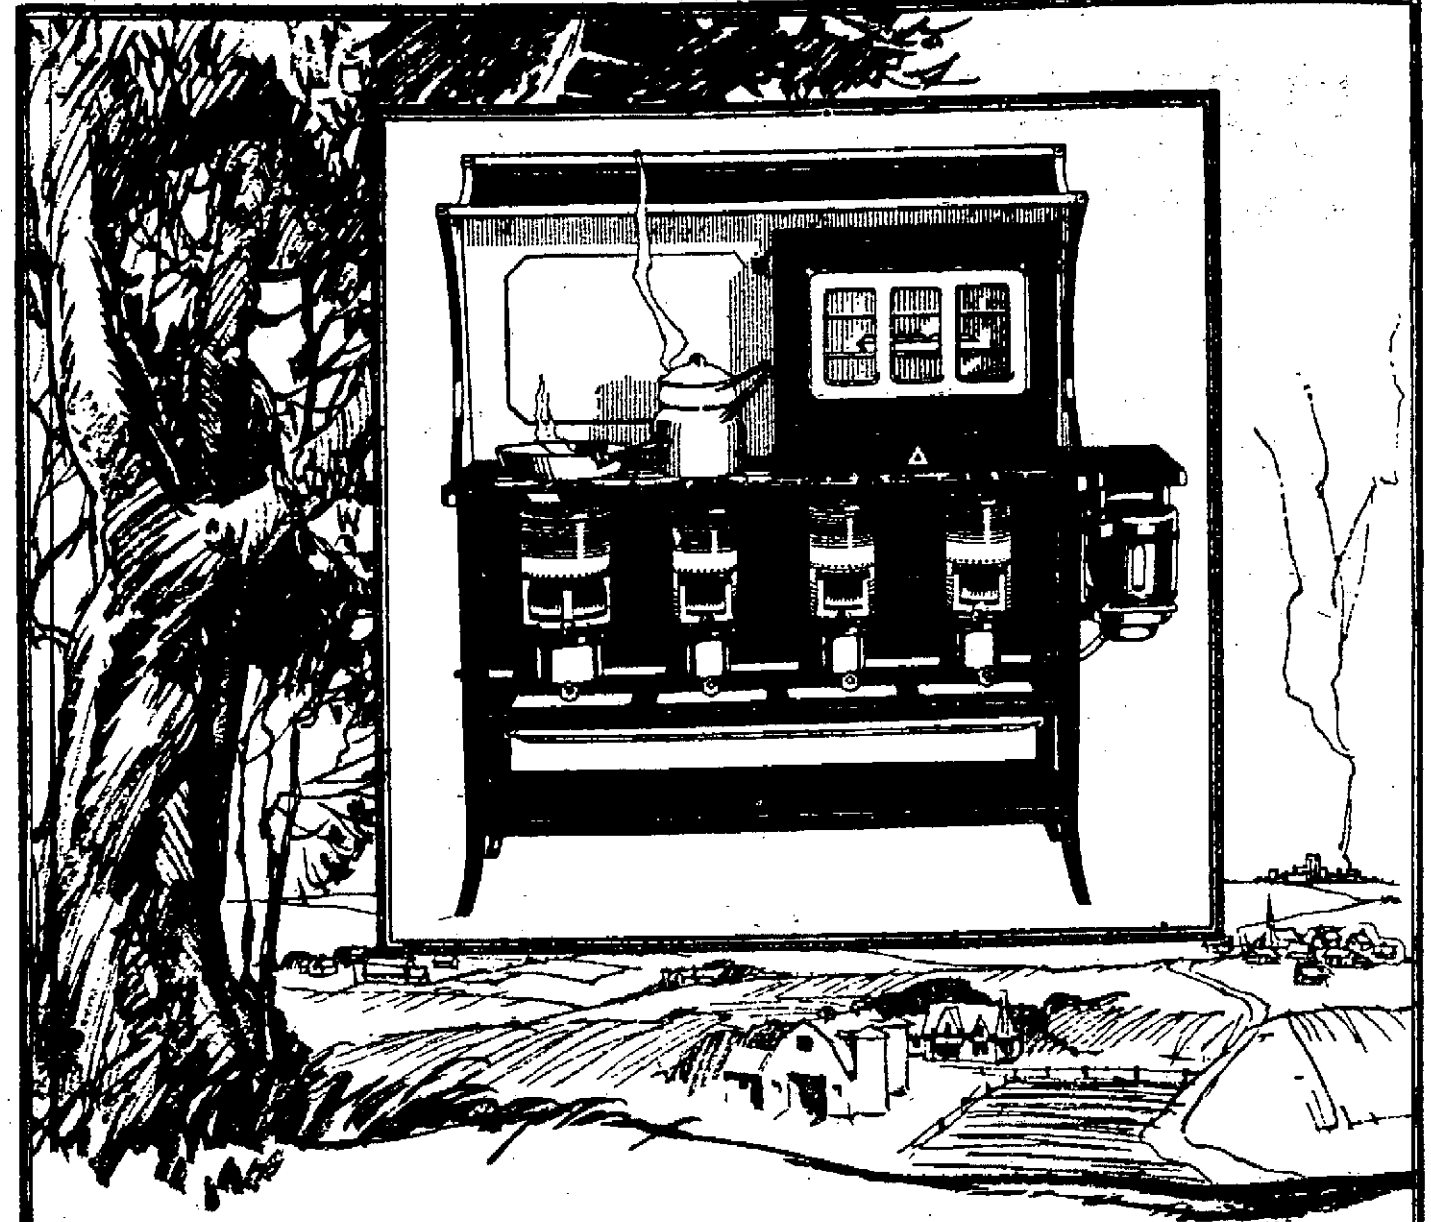

That this Bill of Rights was adopted 15 years after the Declaration of Independence had been made, is the strongest evidence that the feeling of the original founders of the Union of States had intensified rather than weakened concerning the all-importance of those rights which they had proclaimed to the world as "inalienable." So insistent were they upon this point that they were jealous lest the Constitution itself, the work of their own hands, might furnish opportunity for the abridgment of any of these rights and specifically provided against such a contingency.

In vain shall one search the history of the early days of the Republic to discover a single intimation that the men who wrote the Constitution had the slightest idea that an immortal document should be used as a time-saver for restrictive purposes in regard to any right of the individual which did not inhere upon the rights of his fellow citizens. But on the other hand, pronouncement after pronouncement may be found in their correspondence and state papers to show that the "inalienable rights" of the individuals were their most jealous concern.

Now, in these latter days, a tendency is shown to reverse completely this reading of the Constitution. Enthusiasm has been made to interpret it as an instrument which denies to American citizens their "inalienable rights." Under the guise of "Americanism" every effort is made to fling from Americans rights which are inherent and fundamental.

One of the professed purposes of the Fathers of the country in drafting the Constitution was to safeguard the rights of minorities; the evident purpose of present-day changes of the Constitution is to ignore minorities altogether; in language the very suggestion that all citizens, whether of the majority or of the minority, have certain rights which cannot be alienated.

Freedom is the very essence of the American idea. It has been our constant boast. It has been our most cherished treasure. It is the very breath we breathe. It is mental liberty, religious liberty, political liberty as far as consistent with the rights of others—liberty in education. Are we now to forego that liberty? Are we to depart from this fundamental characteristic of our Americanism and what has become known as Americanism throughout the world?

The situation in Oregon is not an isolated case; the question of education is not only one affected by this wide attempt to undermine the very foundation of that wider liberty which has been the proud heritage of every American. Other "inalienable rights" have been suppressed, and it is only natural, even though it may be disturbing, that having been successful in making the Constitution restrictive as to what an American shall or shall not drink, the apostles of intolerance should determine for each individual American parent where and how he should educate his children. The attack upon our parochial schools is a direct attack on our freedom of education and our freedom of worship. They tell us that the public school is the great leveler. There the high and the low, the rich and the poor, children of all classes are thrown together. They become acquainted, class distinctions are done away with. Is not this result accomplished equally well in our parochial schools? Are not there the high and the low, the rich and the poor and the children of all classes thrown together? The two schools have been running along smoothly side by side, in friendly and wholesome rivalry, for a long time. Has it resulted in class distinction? Nothing of the kind. Why theorize? Why not look at the facts which are right before us?

Moreover, let it be understood that this attack on our religious schools, especially upon our Catholic parochial schools, is an attack on our Catholic religion. Wherever an attack has been made upon the church it was first centered on the schools. The enemy knows that if he can rob us of our schools, he robs us of our right hand. It was so in France, in Mexico, in Portugal. It is being tried in other countries. Under the cloak of patriotism the first attack is on the religious school. What we are facing here is only a part of the world movement. And let me warn the Protestants of this community: This movement is not solely against the Catholic church, but at bottom on the part of the chief promoters of the movement, against all supernatural religion, against all Christianity. Do not mistake the issue. They are now attacking us. They are using your prejudices to destroy us. After that the attack will be upon you. It is a war on Christianity.

The tendency is un-American and vicious. It must be checked. It will be checked by the awakened common sense of a really American people which already begins to realize that certain undertakings cloaked under the name of "Americanism" have any but the American aim which they proclaim and produce anything but real American results. "This latest attempt in Oregon," as Archbishop Dowling has well said, "sections by implication the Soviet 'claim' invade the home and substitute communal for parental care." "There is," he points out, "no argument against Communism if this law is constitutional."

But America is not ready for Communism. Against its encroachments stand not only the common sense of fair play which Americans have inherited from those who laid in justice the foundations of their country.

The American people, the great mass of our population of over one hundred millions of people, is honest. They may be opposed to us; they may be prejudiced, but, as Americans, I like to believe—and I think I am right—that their opposition is not a vicious opposition.

It is an opposition that has grown out of ignorance. Their opposition is to a church that never existed and never could exist under the name Catholic; and if you and I were raised in the surroundings in which many of the enemies of the faith have been raised, we might be much worse enemies of the Catholic church. There is great work, therefore, to be done by the press and people in America who have received the gift of a faith—that is to place it before those who are anxious to know. There is a gray line after the supernatural. There is no man who does not realize that the heart's desire can never be filled by the things of earth. Augustine, the great Doctor of Hippo, who died in 430 A. D., a philosopher and theological genius of the first order, dominating like a great mind, antiquity and the succeeding ages proves this last statement, interpreted by the false, alien philosophy and striving to vain to satisfy his soul's longing for sensual gratifications cried out from the deepest depths of his restless bosom: "My heart, oh God, was made for thee and it will never be at rest, until it rests in thee."

Just Apply This Paste and the Hairs Will Vanish

(Boudoir Secrets) The judicious use of a delicate paste insures any woman a clear, hairless skin. To prepare the paste, mix a little of the powdered delatone with some water, then apply to the objectionable hairs for two or three minutes. When the paste is removed, and the skin washed, every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain attends the use of the delatone and it will not mar the most sensitive skin, but to insure results, see that you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Calvin Gray arrives in Dallas and prepares to break financially the well-known Henry Nelson, who is his enemy. Gray becomes friendly with the Briskow family, who own oil wells. Allie Briskow, the daughter, loves Gray, but he is in love with Barbara, daughter of Tom Parker. Bud Briskow son of Bud, runs away from school. Gray follows to bring Bud home and finds the boy in the hands of an adventurer. Bud rescues him, and he and Gray fight until Bud is knocked unconscious. Gray and an associate, Mallow, bring the son of Bud's lady friend to Bud's hotel.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY
"By Jove! She's splendid!" he chuckled. "Buddy, I—I like that woman."

It was mid-afternoon of the next day. Mrs. Fulton, after a restless night, was packing her trunk. She halted her labors for a second time to scan a brief note that had arrived a few minutes before and ran as follows:

DEAR MRS. FULTON—I am not really such a bad sort as you consider me and I'm continually interested in that boy of yours. Let's cry quits and have a serious talk about him and—perhaps other things.

Sincerely yours,

CALVIN GRAY.

She was thus engaged when there came a knock, and in answer to her voice the writer entered.

"Mrs. Fulton, I have learned that life is a mixed affair, and that most of our actions are the results of conflicting motives. Yes, and that we ourselves are products of conflicting forces, good and evil. Few of us are as good as we would like to be, and few people believe nor as bad as we appear. I wonder if you will believe me when I say that I—like you."

"Certainly not."
"Nevertheless, I do. For one thing, you are a good fighter and a good loser. I try to be, but I fear

I lack your spirit. I would not have hurt you willingly."

The woman tossed her head and turned away, when she spoke, it was wearily. "I might have known I couldn't make the jump. I never did win a big race. A good loser, eh? Well, I've had enough practice at it. How is Buddy? Hurt, I suppose. His young life is blasted; he'll never trust another woman."

"He is standing it pretty well, and is greatly cheered by the fact that he can see out of his left eye practically as well as ever. He is going back to the oil fields and learn the business. I am going to put him to work. What are you going to do with Bennie?"

"Do with him? What can I do with him?"

"He is a bright boy."
"I'm bright, too, but I have all I can do to get by."

"I'd like to help you make a man of him."
"What? You? How?"

"I'd like to put him in business and teach him that there is no profit in short-changing customers. I'd enjoy giving the boy a hand up, but—he is more than I'd care to tackle alone."

"There's Mallow to help you. He'd be a real influence." The mother's lip curled.

"How about you?"

"Me?"

"Isn't the sort of life you are living becoming a bit tiresome? Aren't you about fed up on uncertainties?"

The object of these queries drew a deep breath; her eyelids flickered, but she continued to stare at the speaker.

"Worry brings deeper wrinkles than old age. Wouldn't you like to tie to something solid and be able to show Bennie that you are, at heart, the sort of woman I consider you? He'll soon be getting old enough to wonder if you are what he thinks you are or if—"

"I suppose you learned this—ballet practice in the army," Mrs. Fulton said, harshly.

"Anybody can make a good living in a country like this if he cares enough to try. I'll back you if you need money."

"And—what's the price?"

"My price? Oh, I'd feel well repaid if some day Bennie acknowledged that I was a 'regular guy,' and if you agreed."

"Is that all?"

"Quite all. Is there something you do—well?"

THIS YOKEL WAS A SICK MAN, THIN AND WHITE.

"I can cook. I'm a good cook. Women like me usually have hobbies they never can follow—and I have two. I can make a fool of a stove, and I—I can design children's clothes, wonderful things, new things—"

"Will you come to Wichita Falls and start a restaurant and make good things to eat, if I supply the money and the customers?"

"Will I?" The speaker's face had flushed, her eyes had begun to sparkle.

"Then it's a bargain," Gray declared, eagerly. "Why, you'll get rich, for it is the chance of a lifetime. I'll guarantee patronage; I'll drum up trade if I have to turn sandwich man and ring a bell. Leave the details to me."

Margie Fulton sank slowly into the nearest chair, regardless of the fact that it was piled full of lace, white, expensive things; her voice quavered, broke, as she said: "Go, Mr. Gray! I figured there must be some decent men in the world, but I never thought I'd meet one."

CHAPTER XXIII
The Game of Wits

A NEW strike in one of the western counties had become public, and a brand-new oil excitement was born overnight. Trains were crowded, roads were jammed with racing automobiles; in the neighborhood of the new well ensued scenes to duplicate those of other pools. For the first week or two there was a frenzy of buying and selling, a speculation in oil acreage and town lots.

The Nelsons, of course, were early on the ground, for in spite of the father's contention that they could ill afford, at the moment, to tie up more money in unproductive properties, the son had argued that they must have "promotion," and his arguments had prevailed.

Now, oddly enough, this new oil discovery did not develop as had been expected—in fact, the excitement died out quickly, and when Henry Nelson undertook to dispose of his holdings he was faced by a heavy loss, for Gray was offering adjoining acreage at low prices.

Following this unhappy experience, the scandal about the Johnson well became public—the Atlantic Company having at last located the leak in its pipe line—and the whole Red River district enjoyed a great laugh.

Miss Parker, of course, was deeply embarrassed at her connection with the fraud; nevertheless, the banker felt his flesh creep cold at the narrowness of his escape.

About this time a big gasser blow in north of the Louisiana fields, and wise oil men began to talk about Arkansas and quietly to gather in acreage. Less than a week later one of Nelson's field men brought into the bank a youth who owned some property in the latter state. This yokel was a sick man; he was thin and white; he had a racking cough, and he knew nothing about oil except from hearsay. All he knew was that he would die if he didn't get to a warmer, drier climate, but the story he told caused Henry Nelson to stare queerly at his field man. That very night the latter left town.

On the third night thereafter, in answer to a telegram, Nelson and the Arkansas farmer slipped unobtrusively out of Wichita Falls. It so happened that Brick Stoner, en route to Hot Springs for a little rest, was a passenger on the same train.

Stoner returned in the same train, rested, and he brought with him a large check to the firm's account.

"We timed it to the minute," he told Mr. Wade and Mallow. "That gasser couldn't have come in better if we'd ordered it. Nelson's dickering under cover for more acreage near what he's got, but I tipped off who he was."

"He felt easy, eh?"

Stoner grinned. "He was so pleased with himself at swindling an invalid, and so scared somebody would discover his secret, that he couldn't hardly wait to sign up. If it hadn't been for the general excitement, he might of insisted on time to do some exploring, but he's a rig off another job and he's sending it right up."

"We've got some good news, too," Mr. Wade asserted. "Avenger Number one when Avenger Number one came in, for it made necessary immediate drilling operations on his part. And the worst of it was the well was not big enough to establish a high value for his holdings. It was just enough of a producer to force him to begin three offsets and that, for the moment, was an undertaking decidedly inconvenient."

and so can you by smoking

"BULL" DURHAM

Read this

You will be amazed to see how the use of "Bull" Durham tobacco will cut down the cost of your smoking. Remember, "Bull" gives you 50 cigarettes of the best flavor and quality for 10 cents.

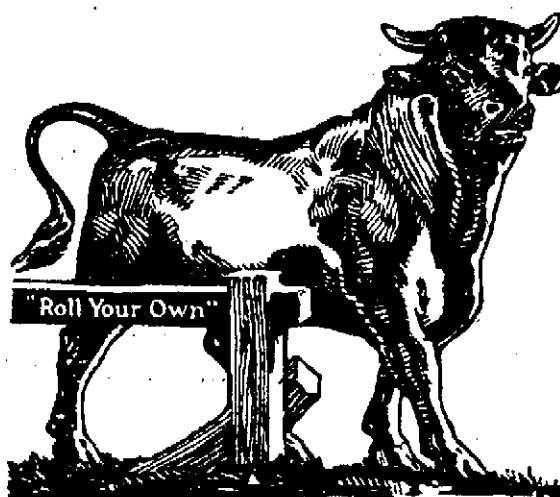

This means easily a saving for the average smoker of from $1 to $1.50 a week—$52 to $79 a year.

Seventy-nine dollars will buy lots of things. A radio set, a talking machine, a very fine suit of clothes, a set of tires, the first fifteen payments on a Ford, a good-sized insurance policy.

Hard to roll your own? Not really. Give yourself a chance to learn this way:

Carry a sack of "Bull" in your pocket all the time, as well as your regular cigarettes. Every time you think of smoking a cigarette pull out your sack of "Bull" and try rolling one.

By the time you've used the sack you ought to be a fair producer. And you'll certainly be a convert to the mild, delightful flavor of "Bull" Durham tobacco.

With each package you receive a book of 24 leaves of BULL—THE finest cigarette paper in the world.

Durham N.C.

Dear Sirs after reading your Bull Durham ad in the paper I decided I would try Bull for a month and see for my self.

I used to smoke 2 packages of 154 cigarettes a day and during the past month I have smoked 24 sacks of Bull so this is what I saved

60 packages of cigarettes at 15¢ = 9.00
24 sacks of Bull Durham at 10¢ = 2.40
I saved $6.60 a month smoking Bull

This letter is to thank you for the way saving tip

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Some time ago I wrote you asking to whom insanity conditions should be reported to here in New Boston and immediately after your answer was printed I reported the matter to the proper authorities but as yet nothing has been done to make conditions better and they are getting worse every day. Now what should be done? Such things are a disgrace to the neighborhood and to our town but it seems like some property owners can get away with most anything. Is there anyone who would force things to be cleaned up?

A READER.

Just keep right after the "proper" authorities and heckle them until they do something to relieve the situation. Sometimes things are forgotten or overlooked and the best way to handle thoughtless people is to camp on their trail until they are forced to do something.

Dear Dolly—I often thought Auto Club would get up a formula regarding the use of the Claxon horn. One blow (rather long blow) would mean to make a turn on a cross street. In closed cars in winter it is hard to extend the hand. Wanting to pass give rather long and one short blow. To stop give two medium long blows. To call for some one give three medium long blows. This can be improved or disapproved by the public.

INTERESTED READER

Dear Dolly—I saw by the paper where some woman wanted to know where the Zeidman-Pollie Shows were playing. I want to inform her that they are in Fairmont, W. Va. this week. They showed in Parkersburg, W. Va., last week. If she will write immediately the letter will reach her soon before they leave that town.

MRS. X. Y. Z.

Dear Dolly—Again I am asking what can be done with dirty alleys. The alleys of this town are just filthy.

with the paper and garbage littered from one end of them to the other. There has been talk of making people get closed garbage cans for years and yet they go on without any kind of a container at all. There are just piles and piles of trash and then this is scattered to the four winds and elsewhere every time a stray dog or a rag man or a bunch of boys come along. Can't something be done to relieve this situation? Why should people who are clean and try to keep their premises nice have to put up with the filthy kind who don't care how things look? I think people like that should be made to live in one section of the city where they could live like uncivilized people if they like to live that way, and not be allowed to mix up with respectable people in a respectable neighborhood.

ANXIOUS READER.

I agree with you that something should be done to prevent people from scattering their trash in the alleys.

I agree with you that something should be done to prevent people from scattering their trash in the alleys.

SOCIAL NEWS

Social events of the early summer season were ushered in auspiciously on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Charles J. Hauck and her two charming daughters, the Misses Lena and Edna Hauck, entertained with a beautiful reception at their handsome new home, 1431 Offshore street.

The lower floor of the Hauck home was attractively arranged with a profusion of Dr. Van Fleet roses which transformed the rooms into a scene of unusual fascination and beauty. Two dainty little maids, Martha Jane Padan and Marie Murray, presided at the door with the ease and grace of their grown-up assistants, and admitted the callers who passed into the spacious living room where they were extended a cordial greeting by the three hostesses, and Mrs. G. Monroe Howerton, who graciously assisted them.

Others assisting in extending cordial greetings during the afternoon were Mrs. J. M. Graham and Mrs. A. G. Dunn who invited the guests into the dining room where they were served with a prettily appointed ice course in rainbow colors. The same lovely decorations were used in the dining room and the charming assistants for the first hour were Mrs. James D. Williams, Mrs. John L. Howerton, Mrs. Earl Clayton, Mrs. Charles H. Hargis, of Williamson, W. Va., and Miss Helen Dawson and Miss Helen Dunn.

During the second hour Mrs. Walter B. Smith, Mrs. R. B. Cunningham and Mrs. E. C. McCoy invited the guests into the dining room where the dainty ice and confections, were served by Mrs. Raymond B. Witte, Mrs. Gilbert D. Waite, Mrs. Adrian B. Arganbright, Mrs. Resa Selby, Miss Katherine Hall and Miss Thelma Ricker.

The affair was one of the most delightful of the season and the guest list included one hundred and seventy-five friends.

Mrs. Hauck and daughters entertained another group of friends this afternoon when bridge formed the chief diversion until five o'clock, when attractive trophies were given the winners of high and low scores. Later an elegant luncheon was served at the small tables.

The East Portsmouth W. C. T. U. will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Floyd Lawson, 2101 Grant Street. She will be assisted by Mrs. Charles Cabness and Mrs. Calvin Slattery. This will be the flower mission meeting and a large attendance is urged.

Women Tell Each Other How They Have Been Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Perrysburg, O.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my sides all the time. I can't remember just how long I suffered, but it was for some time. One day I was talking with a lady I met on a car, and I told her how I was feeling and she said she had been just like I was. I was with pains and nervous troubles, and she took the Vegetable Compound, and it cured her. So then I went and got some, and I certainly recommend it for it is good. Whenever I see any woman who is sick I try to get her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. ADA FRICK, Route 3, Perrysburg, Ohio.

In nearly every neighborhood in every town and city in this country there are women who have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the treatment of ailments peculiar to their sex, and they take pleasure in passing the word along to other women. Therefore, if you are troubled in this way, why not give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

You'll win the fight against Constipation with Kellogg's Bran!

It is wonderful news for every constipation sufferer to know that Kellogg's Bran guarantees permanent relief if it is eaten regularly—because it is ALL BRAN! Two tablespoonfuls each day; as much with each meal in chronic cases—taken consistently—will work health wonders, driving out toxic poisons, freeing affected organs and allowing nature to eliminate the waste in its own way!

Think what this means to health when you know that constipation is responsible for a large majority of the most dreaded human ailments; that, in milder form, it is responsible for sick headaches, biliousness, nausea, sour breath, pimples, etc.

Get a package of Kellogg's Bran to-day and fight against constipation and what it leads to! Free your family from its ravages; free yourself from its grip! Within a week you will be surprised at the improvement.

Kellogg's Bran is not only a permanent relief from constipation, but it is a health food, containing mineral salts as well as other vital food elements that are a necessity to human life.

Eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal, or sprinkle it on or mix it with other hot or cold cereals because it is ready to eat. It is delicious—cooked with hot cereals. And, you have missed much if you do not know the delights of bran muffins, bran raisin bread, bran griddle cakes, etc.

Leading hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

DOLL TOWN

"She's all patch-work with painted hair and polka-dot stockings," explained Nancy.

"Toot! Toot! went the Choo-Choo Express."

And away it rattled, leaving Game Town far behind. Nancy and Nick looked out of the window at the fences and trees flying by and thought they had never had such a new ride.

"What is the next stop?" Nick asked when Mister Punch, the conductor, came along.

"Doll Town," said Mister Punch. "Oh, good!" cried Nancy. "I'm just sure we shall find Ruby Joan, my lost rag doll, there!"

"I hope you will," said Mister Punch kindly. "I'll tell Mister Toots, the engineer, to wait as long as he can so you will have time to look."

Pretty soon the train stopped and the Twins got off. A policeman doll stood on the platform of the station so they went up and asked him if he had seen Ruby Joan.

"She's all patch-work with painted hair and polka-dot stockings," explained Nancy.

"Well, if she looks like that, no doubt she has gone to the French doll to ask for some new clothes," said the policeman doll. "The French doll has lots of style and everybody goes to her for advice."

"If I were you, I should go there, and ask. She lives in that doll house with vines painted on it and real curtains at the windows."

But the French doll in her satin dress and ribbons and laces had not seen Ruby Joan. Nor had her neighbor, the dancing doll, or the black-doll that said "Mama," or the black-doll, or the Chinese doll, or the character doll—or anybody.

Ruby Joan was not in Doll Town. It was plain, so the Twins ran back to the station and got on the Choo-Choo Express.

"Toot! Toot!" went the engineer. Away went the little train.

Goodman, who has been teaching school at the Lower Fourth street school, has succeeded Miss Butler at the Vulcan Last Co.

Mrs. Paul G. Williams presided as hostess to the members of the Craft Two Club and a few additional friends on Wednesday afternoon at her home on Bird avenue. Bridge formed the interesting diversion until late in the afternoon, when the refreshing ice course was served at the small tables.

Members present included Mrs. George E. Breese, Mrs. Eric Ferguson, Mrs. Loren Hitchcock, Mrs. J. Leigh Watkins, Jr., and Miss Helen Haldeman.

The guests for the afternoon were: Mrs. Glen Edwards, Mrs. Everett Drew, Mrs. Evan Williams, Mrs. J. Frost Davis, Mrs. David Williams, Mrs. Harry Harvey and Mrs. Charles Spencer.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George E. Breese, 1939 Hutchins street.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Taylor, Jr., of 119 Madison street, announce the birth of a son, who has been named Frank Hannah Taylor. Mr. Taylor is an N. & W. fireman.

Miss Gladys Selby was accompanied home from Western College, Oxford, by her room mate, Miss Kathryn Consalus, of Bedford, Indiana, who will be her guest for a week.

The Misses Jane and Christine Bothwell cordially received the members of the Ugoles Club last evening at their home on Glover street, for a few hours of sewing, dancing, social chat and music. The members had with them on this delightful occasion, Miss Gladys Selby and her guest Miss Kathryn Consalus, of Bedford, Indiana, and Miss Carrie E. Doll, of Houston, Texas, who is visiting her sister, Miss Bernice Doll. Others present included Misses Mary Puffer, Ruth Millard, Virginia and Dorothy Goetz, Kathryn Elliott, Bernice Doll and Mary Louise Selby.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Trinity church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. L. Cressy, 1137 Third street, with a good number in attendance.

The meeting opened with the singing of "Blest Be the Ties That Bind" by the Society. This was followed by several prayers. In the absence of Mrs. W. C. Millikan, Mrs. John T. Breese led the devotionals, taking as her subject, Mark 6:33-34—'I am Come That They Might Have Life to Seek and to Save the Lost; Other Sheep Have I that are not of this Fold; These also Must I Bring.'

The various reports of the Society were then given and also reports of the May Morning Breakfast. It was decided to have Mrs. first as the annual function for the benefit of the society. The mile box secretary made a request that all members bring their mile boxes to the August meeting. Mrs. C. C. Coverston, the extension secretary read a letter from Mrs. W. C. Bloom, the district secretary of the Portsmouth district, concerning the extension membership. Mrs. James Williams gave echoes of the Group Meeting held at Bigelow church.

Hattie Jenkins read a letter from Mrs. M. Johnson, Home Base Secretary, concerning conditions in China. Mrs. Jenkins also had charge of the Mystery Box. Mrs. John T. Breese gave a short talk urging all members to take more interest in the small societies in the district. The next group meeting will be held at Pikeston, and all members were urged to attend. She also spoke of a plan to increase the attendance of the society.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Cressy and her assistants served ice cream, cake and lemonade. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. P. Smith on Seventeenth street.

Mrs. C. H. Chase is expecting as a guest the latter part of the week, Miss Lois Jones of Ulen, N. Y., who will be her guest for about ten days.

Miss Mary Mills returned to her home at New Straitsville, after several days' visit with Anna and Louella Kanouse of Summit street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. F. Smith of Chillicothe Street, are entertaining at dinner Friday evening as a farewell to Mr. John F. Higgins, who leaves Saturday for Chicago, Ill., to join Mr. Higgins, who has been there for some time.

Summer Care For Baby

BABY should be bathed at least once a day, as a rule in a tub. During hot weather one or two extra sponge baths may be given, but tub baths can be given more quickly and thoroughly, and the baby is not so liable to take cold.

The room should be cool, but an open fire is desirable in cool weather. The water should be comfortably warm, but not hot, about 90 degrees F. to 95 degrees F. It may be tested with the bare elbow, never the hand. However, a bath thermometer is best.

Before baby is undressed, everything should be ready. In a small white wicker basket should be a cake of pure white castile soap, a small bottle of olive oil and a roll of absorbent cotton. A clean washcloth, clean towels and clean clothing should also be ready.

A large bath towel should be spread over the lap to prevent the tender skin from the rough or worsted dress and to receive him when lifted out of the tub. More conveniently he may be undressed on a table. Take his clothes off over his feet.

Use Little Soap. Before putting baby into the tub, wrap him in a small blanket or large towel and wash his face, head and ears, being careful not to get soap into his eyes and mouth. Very little stronger babies may be allowed to play in the water for about 10 or 15 minutes, for the skin absorbs some water, which is beneficial to the system, and it relaxes the muscles needed in overcoming many wrong conditions.

Baby's clothing needs forms the subject of the next article of this series.

Don't Risk Injuring Skin or Clothing.

When you use a preparation for checking under-arm perspiration, you are taking no risks of ruining your clothes or harming your skin. Many commercial preparations contain harsh astringents or powerful chemicals. You should avoid these and the 68th annual commencement held June 6. SAMUEL WISE TAKES EXCHANGEITES
WITH HIM THROUGH THE HOLY LANDS

One of the most entertaining talks ever heard by the Exchange club of Portsmouth, was given by Sam Wise last evening, when he told of his trip to the "Near East." Mr. Wise not only told of the habits and customs of the people who inhabit Palestine and Egypt today, but went back to pre-historic times to relate achievements of the people who lived in these lands thousands of years ago. He described the pyramids and the sphinxes he saw, the ruins of the mighty temples and told of the thousands of people who are supposed to have toiled year after year to produce what were once splendid edifices but which are majestic now only as ruins. Mr. Wise evidently kept his mind as well as his eyes open during his trip and had given much thought to what he put in his brief talk, crowding an amazing amount of information into it.

President Russell K. McCurdy expressed the unanimous sentiment of the club when he said that Mr. Wise's remarks had not only been enjoyed greatly, but he was sure all would profit from the unfolding of the pages of the past in such an instructive manner.

Mighty Healing Power of Peterson's Ointment

"I wish I could publish all the grateful letters I get every week," says Peterson. "I don't believe anyone on this earth has such a happy time at work as I have. All I do is make Peterson's Ointment and read letters like these that come right from the heart. 'I had an ulcer on my ankle — had it 20 years and could not get it healed. For the last six years I had several doctors. I got one box of your ointment and it almost healed it and it was entirely healed before I had used the second one. I don't think there is a better remedy on earth.' Mrs. J. C. Henderson, 123 Sprague Street, Winoona, Minn." Peterson's Ointment is just as good for piles as it is for old sores. It stops itching of eczema almost instantly. There isn't anything the way of pimple or face blemishes that it won't chase away, and for sore feet, chafing, sunburn, warts, etc. and bruises there is nothing so sure or speedy. 35 cents, 60c, $1.00, $2.00, $5.00. —Advertisement—

Goldie Hudson Acquitted

Goldie Hudson, well known North End woman, brought before Judge Thomas on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the alleged unlawful death of her lover, Thomas Cole, was freed by a Common Pleas court jury yesterday. The verdict of acquittal came at the end of a hearing which lasted throughout the day, the jury turning its verdict into court shortly before six o'clock after deliberating on the case a little more than an hour. Mrs. Cole E. Kennedy was forewoman of the jury which took several ballots before the verdict exonerating the accused was reached. It is said the first vote was a tie for conviction and acquittal and as the balloting progressed the defendant gained strength and finally the entire panel vote "not guilty." The alleged offense for which Mrs. Hudson was brought to trial occurred in her home at 1113 Thirteenth street early on the morning of February 23 last, when Cole was shot in the head by a bullet fired from a revolver in the hand of the defendant, the wound proving fatal a couple of days later when he died.

The State contended that the accused was engaged in an unlawful act in pointing the weapon in the direction of the decedent and consequently was guilty as charged under the law, but the defense insisted that the shooting was wholly and entirely accidental, that the fatal shot was fired unintentional and in a spirit of fun when she pointed the gun at a canary bird and that she had not knowledge that the weapon was loaded, having every reason to believe that the shells had been removed. Evidence was adduced by the defense showing that Cole was sitting on the bed bending over and that he raised up his head and came within range of the bullet and that he made statements after he was wounded in which he exonerated the woman, declaring she was not to blame. The jury by its verdict evidently accepted the version of the tragedy as given by the defense.

The accused, who was defended by Attorney Horace L. Small and B. F. Kibbie, was all smiles as she left the courtroom with a bevy of friends. Prosecutor Skelton appeared for the State.

Arrests In Wolff Robbery

Major William E. Newberry and Marshal William Conley of New Boston have made four arrests in connection with the robbery at the Phil Wolff store in New Boston last week. The men under arrest gave the names of John Williams, Herman Thompson, Claude Parker and Henry Welsh. The last named three were arrested at the street fair in Washington.

John C. H. Tuesday night by the New Boston officials. Williams was thought to be there but later was found in New Boston. The officers claim they obtained a good clue when they found the store and the store and part of an old love letter in the rest.

The letter contained the name of a woman in Windell, N. C., and arrests.

Major Newberry sent her a telegram asking her to give the name of the man with whom she had corresponded with the officer telling her the man had been injured in an auto accident and could not tell his name. The information she supplied resulted in the tracing of Williams and the arrests.

TRAIN HITS TRUCK; REISER HURT

Albert Reiser of 1735 Offshore street, well known contracting plasterer, had a narrow escape from perhaps fatal injuries about 2:15 this afternoon when a W. & P. passenger train No. 37 struck his Ford delivery truck on the Severn street crossing, just east of Chillicothe and

Findlay streets. Reiser misjudged the speed of the train and thought that he had plenty of time to get across the track before the train reached that point. The impact threw him to the paved street but the truck caught on the pilot of the engine and was carried between 50 and 100 feet west on the track and finally fell off into the hole south of the track. Reiser was put in a touring car and taken to Hopewell hospital where it was found he had suffered with a laceration on the head and his shoulder was hurt.

Dr. Micklethwait Heads Mercy Staff

Boy Scout Campaign For Summer Camp Funds Starts Off Very Handsomely

The campaign to raise $1,800 to maintain the Boy Scouts' summer camp near Chillicothe, is well under way and promises to be a real success. Eighteen hundred dollars is the goal and within two days 526 was raised. This indicates that the campaign will be a success and that the local Scouts will have a summer camp that will be second to none in the state.

At the annual meeting of the staff of the Mercy Hospital and Clinic held last evening at the home of Dr. A. R. Moore, Dr. O. H. Micklethwait was elected chief-of-staff for the new year. Dr. C. W. Wendelken, assistant chief-of-staff, and Dr. S. D. Ruggles, secretary-treasurer.

After the business session, the doctors enjoyed a social hour.

Moving To City

A. A. Edmonston, assistant road foreman of engines of the N. and W. is moving his family to Portsmouth from Columbia, having rented the upper flat in the Vertz property at 1121 Fourth street.

The lower flat has been rented by A. R. Stacey, local representative of the Fairbanks-Morse Engine company.

Mrs. Hurth Better

Mrs. Louis Hurth, who was overcome by heat Tuesday was much better Thursday and is again able to assist her husband in conducting his business.

OBITUARY

Archie W. Moore
 Archie William Moore, beloved son of Susie and Francis Moore passed away in General Hospital at Cincinnati, Wednesday, May 30, at 10:35 p. m., after a ten days' illness with pneumonia. He was born in Adams county near West Union in 1880 and could have been 37 years old, had he lived until the 7th day of this month. He spent most of his life in Portsmouth as a shoemaker. His parents moved to this city where he was 16 years of age. He had been located in Cincinnati for the last few years. He served six years in the United States cavalry.

He leaves his parents and the following brothers and sisters to mourn: Corey, Philip, Arlie and Mrs. Clara Whitoff of Cincinnati and Dewey Moore of Portsmouth.

Funeral services were held from Miller chapel at Cincinnati with Rev. Hoppe in charge. Interment in Walnut Hills cemetery.

Boy Shoots Self Accidentally

Charles Blackburn, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Blackburn of Mt. Joy, remains in a grave condition at Hopewell hospital as the result of a gunshot wound in the groin which he suffered yesterday afternoon about two o'clock when the shot gun he was carrying fell from his grasp and was accidentally discharged.

At the hospital late yesterday afternoon he underwent an operation for removal of the small shot and repair of torn tissues. He withstood the ordeal well but there is grave danger of infection developing in the wound and today it was stated that his chances for recovery are but slight.

The boy is making a brave struggle displaying the same pluck and courage which marked his trip to his home from the cornfield where the shooting occurred.

Young Blackburn after partaking of his noonday meal picked up the shotgun and left home to shoot crows which had been paying frequent visits to the cornfield. He had been away from home only a short time when the shotgun was accidentally discharged as it slipped from his hands. Although conscious after he arrived at home and while enroute to the hospital he could not tell just how the gun happened to fall from his grasp.

Realizing that his cries of help could not be heard as he was too far from home he decided to make his way back to the house the best he could. Twice he says he fell in a faint but each time the fall revived him and he continued on until he covered about a half mile which separated the house and cornfield. He fell exhausted after getting through a door of his home. Jay Stevens and the lad's father brought him to Hopewell hospital where Dr. J. S. Hardin and J. W. Pritch attended him.

The boy recently graduated from the eighth grade of school. He is well known in the Mt. Joy community where the family has resided for sometime.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, June 7.—Bulls were the favorite in today's opening of the stock market with numerous industrials included in the list.

Among the stronger features were Northern Pacific and Union Pacific each up a point and New Orleans, Texas and Mexico up 1 to 2 points respectively.

Oils and motors were also fairly strong with Studebaker and Hupp Motors both gaining a point. American and Continental Can were strong during the early trading but later lost most of their gains.

Bulls were more active, gains of a point or more being made by Lackawanna, Atlantic Coast Line, Frisco and St. Paul preferred. Merchandise and motor shares also gained ground. Twin City Rapid Transit jumped 6 1/2 points to a new high. Foreign exchanges opened slightly lower.

The upward tendency was halted temporarily by a bear attack on the oil shares. General Asphalt common and preferred, California Petroleum and Caden dropping 1 to 2 points. Gains of 1 to 4 points which had been recorded by the coppers, independent steels, public utilities and certain food, rail and miscellaneous shares were shaded somewhat during the reaction in the oil shares. Prices started up again around noon under the stimulus of a brisk demand for Reading, American Can and American Locomotive.

The closing was heavy. Intermittent bear selling and profit taking halted the upward tendency of prices in today's dull stock market. Selling of oils, equipments, steels and Studebaker imparted a reactionary tendency to the rest of the list after an early period of strength. Sales approximated 900,000 shares.

Chicago Grain And Provisions

CHICAGO, June 7.—Advances which took place at the opening in the wheat market today were soon more than wiped out by speculative selling. The temporary gains resulted chiefly from reports of rust damage in Oklahoma and Kansas and from word of continued excessive crop over here and there states. Just however, lacked volume and the market quickly underwent a setback. Initial quotations which ranged from 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 higher, with July 1.10 1/2 to 1.11 and Sept. 1.10 1/2 to 1.10 3/4 were followed by a drop all around to well below yesterday's finish.

Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 3/4 lower. July 1.10 1/2 to 1.10 3/4 and Sept. 1.09 1/2 to 1.09 3/4.

Corn and oats were easy influenced by some selling of corn, against purchases of other grain. After opening at 1/4 off to 1/4 up July 82 1/2 to 82 1/2 the corn market suffered a material decline. Oats started 1/4 to 1/2 higher. July 42 1/2 and then receded decidedly below yesterday's late figures.

Provisions lacked support. The close was heavy, 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 net lower with July 80 1/2 to 81.

BETTER HOMES WEEK ALREADY AN UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS

Just Three Days Left To Inspect Model Homes

Home Beautiful In A Nutshell

Three modern furnished homes: Stockholm House, 1513 Kinney's Lane, just east of Offshore street—L. E. Silver, governor in charge. Wertz house, 1936 Twentieth street, turn off Scioto Trail at Hempstead Hospital—Joseph Horrobin, governor in charge. Bauer house, 922 Second street, between Gay and Bond—James Distel, governor in charge. Open daily this week continuing, closing Sunday, June 10. Hours, week days, 2 to 9. Sunday, 2 to 5. Admission free—Everybody invited.

Better Homes Week is already an unqualified success.

The thousands of visitors, who have inspected the three homes so elegantly furnished have made it a success. Their cooperation has been an inspiration to the furniture dealers under whose direction the exhibition has been staged.

So completely equipped are these homes that they cannot but receive the admiration of those who have inspected them. It is an ingenious plan to prove just what furniture and furnishings mean to a home.

It may well be said that the average woman is most interested in her kitchen furnishings, whether or not she is so fortunate as to have a competent maid. The kitchen of white enamel equipment in the Bauer house, 922 Second street, has been the subject of comment from many who have seen this. This lovely little home has already been purchased by Mr. George Wurster as the first wedding anniversary gift to Mrs. Wurster. The furnishings are of attractive design and the draperies harmonize beautifully with the wall decorations and general scheme of color.

In the Wertz house on Twentieth street, the electrically equipped laundry, has won many favorable comments, while the cylindrical refrigerator has attracted many, as the shelves may be easily turned to procure various articles, instead of having to remove or reach over others. Then, there is an adorable nursery, where one can almost hear the childish exclamations and shouting of playful youngsters; then the sewing room, where all the mending may be kept from the other part of the house. The porch furniture is of the newest and most comfortable design, and the home-like atmosphere is produced with the necessary toilet articles in the bedrooms, the books and magazines in the lower rooms, and the flowers and plants so thoughtfully provided by Coffman, the Boston Shop and Herms Floral company. The ladies, of course were taken with the beautiful little dressing-room with personal clothes press, just off the bedroom in one of the houses. All the beds are provided with artistically dainty coverlets, in embroidery and other designs, from the gift shops. In one house, many of the men have been heard to favor the den with comfortable wicker furniture, or the reading-lamps, placed so conveniently near at hand, and the armchair, with the smoking stand within easy reach. The Stockholm house at 1513 Kinney's Lane is also thoroughly equipped and visitors to it have been fervent in their praise for the exquisite manner in which the house has been furnished.

There are just three days left to inspect these homes so you had better avail yourself of the chance to see just what furniture and furnishings will do to a home.

casious since she married Malone in October 1916 he has been in the habit of abandoning her without cause and remaining away for indefinite periods of time associating with other women to the neglect of her and their children. The sheriff returned empty-handed because the accused, who had been arrested by the authorities there, was released under habeas corpus proceedings. The sheriff claims he was given the double cross just right by certain officials in the Alabama town.

Wife Complains Of Cruelty
Nellie Shields, New Boston, charges cruelty and infidelity in her suit for divorce and alimony instituted in Common Pleas court Wednesday against Edward Shields, New Boston, whom she married in August 1921.

Through Attorney T. C. Beatty the plaintiff complains that Shields has constantly and continually whipped and abused her during all their married life, declaring that he gets drunk and mistreats and abuses her without cause, the last time on June 1, when she claims he came home intoxicated and whipped her in a cruel and brutal manner. She further charges he is guilty of misconduct with other women.

McKee Gets Decree

On the ground of willful absence, Charles W. McKee, 620 Fifth street, steelworker, was granted a decree by Judge Thomas yesterday divorcing him from Linda V. McKee, now living at Vandergrift, Pa., after he testified that the defendant's conduct of infidelity during the time he lived with her made it impossible for him to live with her. They were married in April 1902. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney M. F. Kimble.

He Published It

The story is told of a man in the pre-Volstead days who swore off drinking. And to make a sure shot of it he published the fact in the papers. The psychology of the scheme was that if he had told everyone that he had sworn off it would be difficult, in spite of temptation, to go astray.

We, as a store, talk a lot about the service we render and about the courtesy we insist our co-workers constantly employ. Thus you know and we know patrons here confidently expect the service that accustoms and the courtesy that a host or hostess is expected to show. Salespeople are only human, but we want ours to know that we are continually publishing to the community the statement that every man, woman and child that enters our doors or calls up over the phone is to receive the careful consideration and courteous treatment to which we are pledged. We hope that our mere stating this truth over and over will not only make our store force nearer the ideal but that the actual practice will reveal to you the spirit of real service we continually try to render.

Council Approves Reorganization Of Engineering Department

E. J. Holmes New Engineer; Salary Is Fixed At $3,800; Mayor Submits Report

The plan to reorganize the city engineering department was the subject of a long and heated discussion before council at a busy session Wednesday night and the issue precipitated a rather spicy debate but in the end the threatened rupture was bridged and supporters of the proposition emerged victorious. The matter came up when an ordinance was offered providing for an increase in the salary of the city engineer from $2,000 to $3,800 a year which was finally passed as an emergency measure by unanimous vote of the seven members present. Members Charles Whitt and Florio Ecker being the absentees. When a motion to pass the measure under a suspension of the rules was made, Member Walter L. Dickey arose in his seat and suggested that it might be a good idea to let the legislation go to three readings so as to give persons who had approached him with objections to the proposed increase in salary an opportunity to be heard.

"I was not present at the secret session when the engineering proposition was discussed," Mr. Dickey said. "Today many people have come to me urging me to oppose this measure. They have told me that the hiring of an expensive engineer at this time was not needed. For they have said, the city's big improvement project for the year is passed."

"I am not in favor of suspending the rules. I think we should take our time about passing this legislation and give the people a chance to learn what is happening."

After Mr. Dickey's remarks, Miss Emma Cramer, member-at-large, spoke. "I feel as Mr. Dickey does," she said. "I feel as Mr. Dickey does, several have called on me, and I feel that we had better not suspend the rules, but should give the public a chance to learn what we are going to do with their money."

The objections led to a spirited discussion which Mayor Gableman opened with a statement in which he gave his position. In part he said: "I thought this proposition was closed and these objections came to me as a surprise. The matter was thoroughly discussed and agreed upon in caucus, all eight members present voting to adopt the plan presented, and in good faith next day I wired Mr. Edward J. Holmes, at present assistant engineer for the city of Cincinnati, I had formally accepted his proposition and arranged for him to come here on June 18 to assume the position, taking it for granted council would ratify its former action at this meeting."

The mayor then pointed out the fact that there is a scarcity of engineers and that few competent engineers are loose and available for the position.

Continuing the mayor said, "While I am sure this proposition has come up in this manner at this time, so far as I am concerned you may defer action but I serve warning on council and the public that none of the big improvement projects will go forward until a competent engineer is secured to supervise the work."

Had Seen Mr. Holmes
Member Charles C. Horr stated that he had seen Mr. Holmes of Cincinnati, the engineer who had been proposed for the position and declared that it would be a mistake to hold up the proposed important improvements by failing to engage an engineer to handle the projects. He further declared that councilmen "don't have to go out on the street corners to ask anybody about spending the public money as they elected us to do for them."

Members Diener, Bauer and Westphal declaring they thought the matter had been thrashed out in caucus went on record as approving their former action. Mr. Diener asserted that persons objecting to the plan had not displayed enough interest by their presence to let their complaints be known and that as a rule such persons were unwilling to shoulder any blame but simply want to find fault.

Mr. Westphal stated that he had interviewed Mr. Holmes, the new engineer, and that he learned sufficient to convince him that the new man was capable of handling the projects under way here, including the new sewer and new cemetery propositions.

Thought Mayor Done Injustice
Mr. Bauer thought it a great injustice to the mayor to hold up the measure and delay the improvement program therefor.

On the vote to suspend the rules Members Dickey and Miss Cramer voted in opposition and as a result the motion failed. This action was then followed by a flood of oratory in which Alan N. Jordan and William C. Hazlebeck, both of whom are interested in extensive improvements, joined in, both pointing out that any delay in hiring an engineer would result in the improvement program being held up until it could not be finished this year which would retard the progress in the development of the city. Mr. Jordan said in part:

"Even under the present arrangement, there will hardly be time to get the improvements through this year. A delay in hiring an engineer will mean holding up property improvements amounting to between $500,000 and $1,000,000."

"I claim that this measure is an emergency, and that it will mean between $35,000 and $50,000 in interest to the owners of these undeveloped tracts if this legislation is not passed under a suspension of the rule tonight."

Mr. Hazlebeck then spoke, stating that he approved Mr. Jordan's plans, and adding that "real estate men were given to understand that this engineer reorganization bill was going through without any question."

The mayor came to bat again and in reply to Mr. Dickey who claimed that persons had voiced objections to the expenditure of $10,000 to a Chicago engineering firm to make the sewer survey, declared it was the best money ever spent by the city. He asserted that any discussion involving expenditure for the sewer plans was the rankest propaganda and branded it as unfair and unjust. He pointed to the fact that the city now has complete working plans for its sewerage program and ready to enter upon the actual construction work and the cost of the plans is a charge against the sewers. Referring to the new engineer the mayor claimed that the new man must organize, not reorganize, the engineering department besides superintending the work in the field. In addition he must correct the most flagrant abuses that have ever come to light in any department of any municipality. The cost of operating the department under the present system is $10,000 a year and under the new plan, the so-called Cleveland plan, there will be an increase in cost but the additional cost will be assessed to each individual improvement, the salaries of two roadmen and one draftsman to be paid per diem and only for the time they are actually employed.

Did Not Wish to Block Action
The arguments presented caused Mr. Dickey and Miss Cramer to have a change of heart and resulted in both withdrawing their opposition, declaring they had no disposition to block and delay the big improvements pending and when the legislation came up for reconsideration on Monday.

tion of Mr. Dickey both he and Miss Cramer voted with the majority and it passed without a dissenting vote.

Other legislation passed included an ordinance authorizing the employment of two attendants at Hospital and fixing their pay at $3 a day each and an ordinance was adopted authorizing the employment of J. W. Mitchell as assessment engineer and fixing his pay at $10 a day. He will secure data to be used in fixing the assessments on sewer improvements under the benefit plan. The sum of $300 was voted to pay the salary.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the transfer of $400 from the General fund to the Safety fund.

Petitions were presented seeking to have Seventeenth street, from High to Mound, and the road leading to the upper ferry filled but no action was taken after it was decided that to make the improvements would result in a flood of similar requests from persons on other streets. The expense was considered too great.

An ordinance was passed at the suggestion of the mayor authorizing the service director to advertise and contract for expert and physical inspection of the work of resurfacing of Gallia, Second and Eleventh streets asphalt. The work will cost $700 according to the engineer's estimate.

Alan N. Jordan asked council to accept the plan of the Milldale addition, dedicating Milldale and Dunlap roads to the city but before any action will be taken council desired to ascertain the approximate cost of constructing four culverts and other necessary repairs on the roads and the matter was referred to the engineer for an estimate.

After legislation had been ordered providing for an increase in the salary to Capt. Lee Starzman of the police department, Member Bauer stated that Assistant Fire Chief H. L. Shumate sought a similar increase in salary. Members Horr and Dickey voted against ordering the legislation for the increase to the police captain. Mr. Horr declaring that while many of the city employees were underpaid he had been given to understand no more increases would be asked after he voted for the boosts in salary for the chiefs of the police department.

Mr. Koutz was of the opinion the request for the increase for the assistant fire chief should come from the head of the department and Miss Cramer pointed to the statement of the Safety Director Straus that he would not ask for other increases if his request for Starzman was granted.

Member Diener stated that a man named Carrington had erected a shack on the river grade against the flood wall and inquired who had granted the concession. He presented the request of L. F. Salzer to build another shack there at a rental of $10 a year and it was referred to the service department.

Complain of Dances
Member Diener also registered a complaint for his constituents in respect to the annoyance caused them by holding of old fashioned square dances in the houses built third and Washington streets. The matter was referred to the safety director for action. The safety director declared that the dance place referred to was a nuisance and suggested that all dance halls be regulated by legislation as in other cities.

George E. Matthews, in a communication, asked to have the grades in the alley south of Fifth street and east of Brown refixed. Council ordered the engineer and the Service Director to carry out his wishes.

James Dickey Post, American Legion asked for an appropriation to help pay for Memorial Day Services and legislation appropriating $50 was ordered.

The petition of John Hale and wife, owners of land running from William street to the Ohio river, to have the street assessments against their property set forth specifically, was referred to the City Solicitor.

The West End Improvement Association's proposal to establish a comfort station and taxi terminus in the West End was referred to the Public Property committee.

Solicitor Johnson then informed council that the N. & W. Railway Co. would not sell the property at Sciotoville which the city wants to buy for a sewerage disposal plant. The matter will be taken up with Pearce, Greely and Hanson, Chicago engineers, who recommended the purchase.

Mrs. Emma Cornett, in a letter addressed to council through Attorney A. R. Campbell, asked damages for injuries received when she fell on Gallia street in front of the new Universal Garage. The claim was referred to the law and claims committee.

Mayor Gableman read a communication dealing with city finances and in which he made a number of recommendations which were referred to the proper committees. The mayor's communication in full follows:

Council:
The balances in the Operating Funds June 1, 1923, total—$23,839.25. Certificates of indebtedness outstanding, $15,000.
Balance June 1, 1923, $26,839.25. Estimated receipts June, 7,500.00.
Total, $34,339.25.
June expenses estimated, $18,686.67. Certificates outstanding, 15,000.00.
Total, $33,686.67.

Estimated balance July 1, 1923, $2,652.58.
We will, therefore, close the first half of this year with a cash balance sufficient to retire the remaining certificates outstanding and still have a surplus of $2,652.58 with all current obligations discharged without having used any part of the advance draw of taxes which we will receive sometime during this month.

A conservative estimate of the amount necessary to defray the current expenses of the city for the year 1923 would be $210,000. This would mean $105,000 for the first half of the year, beginning July 1, 1923, and ending December 31, 1923.

Estimating the tax income for the last half of 1923, to be the same as the first half—$88,000—$17,000 is the amount necessary to be received from other sources to operate on this estimate. The receipts into the Operating Funds, aside from taxes, will total $15,000, beginning July 1, 1923, and ending December 31, 1923.

This will permit the carrying out of the following recommendations, which I am submitting for your consideration at this meeting:

First—That the present Hill Top Engine House be abandoned. That the Committee on Fire and the Director of Public Safety be instructed to secure a suitable site for a new Engine House for the Hill Top section. Also to secure a suitable location to house a Fire Department in Sciotoville.

The income from the sale of the Hill Top property will more than take care of the cost of constructing these new houses. The incidental expense of these new Departments in the opinions of Director Straus and Chief Leedom, will not total the incidental expense of maintaining the present Hill Top Department. It will not be necessary, to purchase new apparatus, as the city at the present time owns sufficient equipment for four Departments.

Second—At present the Police Officer at Sciotoville is paid $3.50 per day for the appropriation for Special Police. Would recommend that this officer be made a regular patrolman.

Third—A patrolman is sorely needed in the North Moreland Addition and such officer should be stationed in this locality as soon as possible. Numerous complaints come from the residents out there and the Police Department at the present time is helpless in the matter of affording police protection. Should this recommendation be approved, it is planned to secure an officer a resident of this Addition and place him on regular duty from noon until midnight, and he to be subject to call at any hour day or night.

tion that has been presented to this Council by the Mayor has been submitted with the sole idea of efficiency which is another word for economy, in order to relieve some of the tax burdens imposed by former tax-fixing authorities.

As one fairly well-informed upon the subject of local taxation, I desire to say a few words upon the subject at this time:

Our tax rate this year is $2.20 for every $100 listed for taxation. With the Tax Tith Bill in operation, we can levy $2.41 for every $100 listed for taxation. I am not prepared to state what our tax rate will be next year, but it is my opinion that instead of an increased rate the taxpayers can prepare themselves for an agreeable surprise in the nature of a substantial reduction of the present rate.

In this connection it has been my great pleasure upon receipt of numerous appeals for assistance and co-operation from others in municipalities throughout the State, in the matter of securing legislation for additional tax levies, to reply that Portsmouth does not care to co-operate in these things for the reason that instead of trying to get more money from taxes, we are doing everything in our power to reduce them.

All loyal citizens are trying in every way and manner possible to boost Portsmouth and I can not think of anything that would attract more favorable attention to our city than wide publicity concerning our tax proposition as the question of taxation is undoubtedly the most important subject before the people of Ohio at the present time.

Respectfully submitted,
WM. N. GABLEMAN,
Mayor.

The resurfacing of Gallia, Second and Eleventh streets involves expert and physical inspection. The Engineer's estimate for this purpose totals $700.00.

The common practice is to pay a stated rate per square yard and the charge varies from 1-3-4c to 2-1-2c per square yard.

We have, therefore, requested the Solicitor to prepare the necessary legislation, authorizing the Director of Public Service to enter into contract with the lowest and best bidder after advertising according to law.

My attention has been called by the Representative of the State Bureau of Accounting to the loose method which has been in vogue for years relative to the collection of rentals for market stands.

Under the present system, the Market Master collects a certain fee from market stands each time a market is held. This amount collected is kept, of course, in itemized form by the Market Master and the lump sum paid monthly by him into the city treasury.

An audit of this account does not mean anything as the amount turned in depends entirely upon the integrity of the Market Master.

Under the law, all fees charged for such purpose by the City are licenses and should be collected in advance. The suggestion has been made that the City issue licenses for six months' periods in the manner that other licenses are issued, payable in advance. In addition, a license fee should be fixed to such persons who desire to use the market for a single time only.

Would recommend that this matter be referred to the Ordinance Committee in order to have legislation at the next regular meeting so that licenses may be issued for the last half of this year in advance of July 1st.

For the information of the members of the Council, would advise that I have taken up the proposition of connecting the City raw water line with that of the Wheeling Steel Corporation in order to ascertain the reason for the delay in this matter.

The proposition of the Wheeling Steel Corporation has been prepared and awaits the approval of the proper official of that Corporation. This official returns for a three-weeks' vacation this week and the matter will be ready for your consideration at the next meeting as same will be in the hands of the Light and Water Committee in the meantime.

Flays Attorney General

COLUMBUS, O., June 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Director of Industrial Relations H. R. Witter, replying to the recent letter of Attorney General Carbo demanding an explanation relative to his dismissal of Factory Inspector Albert Smith, of Carbon Hill, not only sets forth in detail the incidents connected with Smith's case, but makes some pertinent suggestions to the attorney general concerning the conduct of the state's legal department.

Director Witter charges the attorney general with favoring the spoils system, neglecting his legal duties in carrying out orders of the state industrial commission and with taking up the side of a "discharged employee" when it is his duty to represent the state officials. He calls upon the attorney general to represent him and not Smith in the controversy.

Witter also takes a fling at the attorney general for alleged acts while a member of the legislature in attempting to break down the civil service law, yet contending in his letter to Witter that he intends to do all he can to uphold the merit system.

"You state in your letter," Director Witter says, "that you will perform your duty under the law to the end that the merit system may not be jeopardized. This sounds odd when it is recalled that as a member of the general assembly, you voted consistently for legislation that had for its primary purpose, the severing of civil service employees from the payroll and replacing them with others not only in this department but practically all others."

"It appears to me that you favor the spoils system when Republicans are in power, but when a Democratic official endeavors to dispense with the service of an inefficient employee, you are for strict civil service because the employee happens to be a Republican, regardless of the circumstances surrounding the case."

"May I suggest that your department would be more responsive to the will of the people of this great state if you would use some of your excess energy in carrying out the orders of the industrial commission. By failing to institute action against employers negligent in complying with the workmen's compensation act—many cases of which are on file in your office—you have allowed injured workmen to be defrauded of their rights and the state insurance fund has lost thousands of dollars in premiums. I would appreciate it if you would give a little more attention to this work, involving the welfare of others, instead of acting as private counsel for a dismissed inefficient employee."

"The people of Ohio are demanding honest and efficient public service and a public official should not be hampered when he is trying to bring about improvement."

Director Witter explained that Smith had been discharged on March 1, this year, at the end of his ninety day probation period because his service was unsatisfactory and that the civil service commission on March 12 notified him that the discharge had been received and filed. After this, Director Witter says, Smith wrote several letters to the chief of the division indicating that he accepted the discharge but wanted to be paid to March 15. During April, he said, Smith turned in his identification cards and other paraphernalia indicating that he accepted the discharge.

Soon after April 5, the civil service sent Smith a letter saying that his probation period had ended February 28, and that in his opinion he was entitled to his position unless discharged for other cause. Director Witter said the civil service commission said nothing about replacing Smith on the payroll.

Every Gallon Of This Paint Is Equal To Five Quarts

Do you believe you can get 5 quarts out of a 4 quart can? Isn't it true that some get 9 miles out of a gallon of gas, while others get 15? It's not the number of gallons of gas put in the tank that counts. It's the number of miles that come out of it.

It's exactly the same with paint. If this paint we sell will go 25% farther than most paint, isn't it exactly the same as if you had 5 quarts in every one of your gallons? Haven't you here to tell you why this paint we sell goes so far, but if you'll drop in we will gladly give you the convincing facts.

Says High Blood Pressure Can Be Reduced to Normal

THOUSANDS HAVE IT AND DON'T KNOW IT

Indicated by Dizzy Spells, Nervousness, Pains in the Head, and Sleeplessness

Perhaps you don't know that high blood pressure is so serious that life insurance companies decline to accept as risks people who have it. That's the best reason in the world why anyone with this trouble should start at once to reduce the pressure. NORMA, the prescription now sold by Fisher & Stretch Pharmacy, and all good druggists, has been so successful in reducing blood pressure to normal that the sales are growing to an extent beyond all expectations. Most people who have high blood pressure are troubled with dizzy spells, pains in the head, lack of appetite, and nervousness. They are usually restless, sometimes moody and can't sleep well. Many women at the changing time of life suffer severely and have hot flashes, headache and a miserable feeling at times. All such ailments, if caused by high blood pressure, will quickly disappear if NORMA is used intelligently. In many cases one bottle works wonders. Sometimes more is necessary, but sufferers may be sure that one bottle will show them that NORMA is just what they need. If you have high blood pressure or any of the symptoms, NORMA is the medicine you can rely upon. It is purely vegetable, and harmless and safe for anyone to take. Mail orders filled C. O. FEATURES OF YESTERDAY'S GAMES

NEW YORK, June 7.—From the evidence shown in their toughest assignment so far this season, it appears that the Chicago White Sox have been kidding themselves by remaining in the American League cellar.

Day before yesterday the Sox made their eastern 1923 debut by frightening the New York Yankees into tolling ten innings to win by one run, and yesterday they upset the league leaders 4 to 1. The result was costly for the Yanks as Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 5 to 2. The Athletics needed to win at Cleveland also won and gained a point in the race for second place, only two points separating them today. The score was 17 to 4. Walter Johnson was in rare form and Washington evened the series with Detroit, 5 to 1.

The Western teams of the National League, all playing at home, made a clean sweep, Brooklyn losing to Pittsburgh, 7 to 3.

The contest at Chicago was featured by Umpire Moran reversing his decision on a disputed play and the New York Giants losing 6 to 1.

St. Louis and Cincinnati triumphed the former being extended to 12 innings by Philadelphia in the first game of their series and the latter making it two straight from Boston with the score of 5 to 1.

New Record

OXFORD, O., June 7.—The woman's intercollegiate 440 yard run record of North America was broken here yesterday by Miss Mary Frank, of St. Marys, Ohio, a freshman at University. Miss Frank ran the distance in 1:15 3/4. The previous record of 1:16 was held by Miss Ethel Clarkson of Northwestern University.

Giants Win; Can't Draw Big Crowds

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Sports Editor.) NEW YORK, June 7.—(United Press)—New York has always been a hard crowd town to figure. It is primarily an amusement seeking city, with assorted ideas on what is amusement. The same rules that hold in other big cities do not apply to New York, where it was figured that anything would get a crowd. New York supports two six-day bike races a year, and they wouldn't draw more than a laugh in any other big town. Promoters who have been successful in New York generally work on the theory of "giving 'em a winner" in anything they like, but this does not always work, as is being shown now in the case of the New York Giants.

Manhattan fans have turned away from the Giants and are favoring the Yankees by their patronage. Considering that the Giants are world's champions and that in two world's series engagements they have made the Yanks look decidedly inferior, it is difficult to figure the change in heart.

If the main idea is to look at a winner, the Giants certainly ought to get more patronage at home than their American League rivals, because the Giants are not only the greatest team in the major leagues now, but many former players, managers and old fans regard McGraw's present team as one of the best balanced and greatest clubs of all times.

If the attendance had fallen off in the Yanks stadium this season, it would be plausible to figure that the New York fans were getting tired of championship teams. Like the Philadelphia crowds did back in 1914, when poor business forced Connie Mack to break up one of the greatest teams of all times.

At one time, the American League club in New York was scoffed at and ridiculed and fans boasted that they were Giant rooters. The rapid partnership began to slip away as soon as the Yanks got Babe Ruth, and now the same fans are just as rabidly boosting the Yanks.

The situation is a tough one for the Giants to figure. If they can't get the crowds with a winning team they wouldn't care to risk the chances of a losing team, and there is no other Babe Ruth.

Try V-Shaped Grip If It's Natural

By MIKE BRADY

Western Open Champion What is the best grip to use in golf?

That question has been asked me no end of times and the same undoubtedly is true of every professional. As a general proposition, I would say take the grip that feels most natural. If the old-fashioned V-shaped grip, neither interlocking nor overlapping, feels most natural use that. The value of the interlocking and overlapping, especially the former, is that the hands are more apt to work in unison.

Persons with small hands and short fingers may have difficulty with the interlocking, which has the little finger of the right hand curled inside the forefinger of the right and generally with the thumb of the left hand on the shaft, covered by the palm of the right. In the case of short fingers and medium thickness of club grips this may be found awkward, robbing the hands of some of their power.

The overlapping grip, such as Vardon uses, with the little finger of the right hand merely overlapping the forefinger of the left, may be found more efficacious for many players, and, after it has been tried for a short time, it probably will be found just as natural a grip as the more orthodox grip, with the hands merely pressing against each other and without any interlocking or overlapping.

If with the old-fashioned grip, the golfer finds the two hands not working well together, it is a good thing to try one of the other methods.

PROOF IN THE PUDDING

THESE United States consume 103 pounds plus of sugar per year for each inhabitant, regardless of age, habit, or previous condition of servitude.

We do not hear so much of late about the price of the article, though there is no visible evidence that the heroic efforts of the administration in that direction have resulted in anything striking by way of reduction.

Perhaps, that is because just now the administration is bending all its energies to trying to convince the consumer that the tariff has nothing whatsoever to do with the price.

That's ridiculous because the administration raised the tariff on imported sugar at the behest of the sugar planters of Louisiana and the beet growers of Colorado and Utah, Senator Smith of the latter state having the last say on the sugar schedule. Now, we've got a horse with sense enough to know that those planters and growers wanted more tariff because it would make it cost more to bring in sugar and so raise the price to their profit. But that is a sort of generality. Wherefore let us get down to particularity. The tariff on Cuban raw sugar is 1.76 cent a pound. The government makes the importer pay that. It takes 107 pounds of raw sugar to make 100 pounds of refined sugar. To this add waste and carrying charges, then bunch them all and the tariff charge and incidents run up to 2 cents plus. The law that imposes the tariff allows the refiners a rebate on refined sugar, when they get the raw sugar abroad, refine it and ship it out of the country. The Harding administration allows, under these conditions, a rebate of 2 cents a pound.

That's conclusive.

MARKS NOW MERE JUNK

GERMAN marks have sunk to such a low level that one dollar in American money will buy 70,000 of them, a mere junk value. London banks so recognize and refuse to deal at all in them. Hence Germany has come to bankruptcy or repudiation, about the same thing.

Henceforth she must carry on her foreign trade, either by barter and trade or by transactions in foreign money.

There is no possibility of her paper currency ever being worth anything. For months she has been issuing it as fast as the presses could print but the end of that sort of financing is at hand.

The collapse of the mark will have a wide spread effect, not alone upon commerce, but upon individual fortunes all over the world. After the war there were hundreds in every nation, who had been so fed up on German industry and German resourcefulness that they believed she would stage a come back, and that before long. These showed their faith by buying heavily of the mark around five cents, figuring that when Germany came back they would be worth five and six times as much as paid for them. They lose all.

No this doesn't mean that Germany has gone to the dogs for all time. Eventually she will get on her financial feet, but she will never get where she can redeem the mark at par. Scarcely the United States is equal to a task like that.

Can't say whether it is a sign of getting worse or better, but the fact is a man went before a German court the other day and got a divorce from his wife because she had become a royalist, wanted Wilhelm to return to Berlin.

The pitcher that goes to the well once too often comes back broken, or else the parts are thrown into the highway to puncture a tire. Anyway Johnnie Kilbane fought one too many fights. Thanks be, the last fight was with a Frenchman, he having disposed of every American with more courage than discretion.

Misery loves company, but we can't say right now that this parching section feels any consolation in Rhodesia, Africa, where five members of a tribe have been sacrificed to some goddess so she may relent and send rain.

The state medical association isn't at all finding any fault about the action, oh no, not at all, but it just wants to know, you know, of Governor Donahay and Attorney General Crabbe, why they authorized the sheriff of Scioto county to have a chiropractor treat a little girl in jail. It does not enter the minds of the association to conceive, we suppose, that both of these officials may be fathers and both are certainly human.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY G. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 7.—The smoking room of a Rialto theatre at the entrance affords some side lights that are interesting. The interlude hurriedly throws a group of strangers in close compact. They pace up and down puffing nervously at cigarettes.

Men not in evening dress develop an inferiority complex and cling to corners. A match borrower explodes a buzz of conversation. Then a lady smoker enters. Sudden silence again. She goes to the wall and inspects a picture.

Two friends recognize each other. "My wife bought me this hat today," says one. "Clerk guessed the right size—six and one quarter." The clerk didn't guess. He knew the size of a hat for any man who would let his wife select it.

A rather shaky man rushes into the room, unloads a flask and swigs a half dozen gulps. A ruddy cheeked dominie discreetly turns his head. "I seen this play open at Altoona," says a fellow with a lodge emblem in each lapel, to no one in particular. "I know it would reach Broadway."

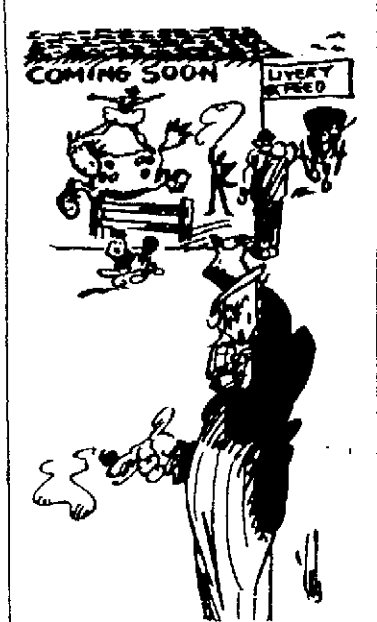

More silence. He feels self conscious and begins inspecting wall pictures. An old crone peddling soiled packets of gum enters. Everybody turns his head the other way. She looks about rather appealingly and slinks away. Perhaps she was once a star!

The staccato cry of a uniformed usher. "Any lady or gent lose a bill book?" Business of going through pockets. "What kind was it?" asks a man apparently out of sheer curiosity. "Have to see the treasurer," replies the usher and is gone. The sharp ping of the curtain bell. The crowd drifts away holding cigarettes until the last step of the stairs is reached. The Ethiopian comes out of the wash-room. "A bunch of nickel nurses," he confides to the night-watch. The play begins again.

Two big hotels now have cafeterias, run under different names but in the same building, which serve exactly the same food that is served in their more expensive dining rooms. However, the bulk of the cafeteria patronage comes from those who are not guests. The guests who want to go to the cafeterias go to those several blocks away. Some of the hotel help might see them in the hotel building.

Over on the eastern side of Staten Island is Sailors' Snug Harbor, a refuge for old American seamen who have anchored there for the remainder of their days. It is a picturesque crowd of hardy men with faces still tanned by the wind and sun. Joseph Conrad, the novelist, went over to see them and they sat around and spun yarn.

We're steerin' clear o' th' Darwin controversy, but we defy anybody t' tackle us on th' Barium theory. With all th' fightin' an' turmoil in Europe, we all ought t' be glad we're livin' in America, even if we're only Democrats, or farmers.

stories of ancient whalers with saucer topgallant sails. To these old fellows the sea is still an inscrutable mystery. They will walk along the shore by the hour constantly gazing out into the depths. One time a theatrical manager invited all that would accept to see a performance dealing with marine mystery. Only two accepted and they left in disgust after the first act.

Incidentally, when these ancient mariners are on a pleasure jaunt they go deep sea fishing. Impelled, no doubt, by the same impulse that causes sailors to spend off hours rowing in Central Park lake; the stage-door-men to go to plays; circus riders to gallop on the bridge path and chefs to visit other kitchens.

The reporter who is said to have discovered the identity of the mysterious "Mr. Marshall" in the Dot King murder case is also reported to have declined a salary tripling that which he is making to become the head of a New York private detective agency. Doc Koko's KOLUM

We Grow Not Old
(Atlanta Constitution)
We grow not old. We are but children yet.
Even when Time his whitened crown has won;
We suffer tense—then quickly we forget.
Barter the now for future joy unknown.

I've lived, I've loved, I've suffered; these have made Time's little span from April's spring to spring;
I've staked and won; I've staked and lost and paid.
And with it all life's such a blessed thing.

We grow not old. While winds of Age are blowing
We build new walls, where castles stood before;
With Hope we go, the seeds of joy besowing.
As if we stood at Life's unopened door.

Seemed Somewhat Personal
There are things one might have expressed differently. A gushing matron was getting up an afternoon affair and called on a somewhat elderly dandy who had promised to assist.

"Now," pattered the matron, "I have secured a sweet girl to pour tea. You, my dear, will look after the slices of lemon."
"What am I to infer from that?" asked the other acidly.

O, Not So Bad

A resident of Chicago made a trip into the Ozark Mountains of southern Missouri and northern Arkansas last summer and was not very favorably impressed with the country. He inquired of one of the natives: "What on earth do you do down here all summer long?"

The native eyed him in astonishment. "Well, sir, mostly we fish and fight and drink whisky."
This interested the Chicago man and he pursued the subject further. "What do you do in the winter time, then?" he asked.
"Stranger, in the winter time it's too darned cold to fish," answered the native.—Kansas City Star.

Had to Suffer
"Why don't you take something for that cold, old man?"
"Sir, I'm a law-abiding citizen."—New York Sun.

Their Value
Grace—Aren't squirrels the dearest things!
Maude—Oh, no; seals are much dearer.—Life.

Economy

Visitor—Good morning, Marib. How busy you are, always knitting. Do you find the stockings wear longer if knitted by hand?

Marib—Wear longer? Yes, of course, mum. Perhaps you wouldn't believe it, but this pair of my old man's socks I knitted five years ago, and I've knitted new legs to 'em twice, and new footed 'em five times. And seems to me they'll never wear out.—Los Angeles Times.

Satisfactory
"Professor Smith is sick today?"
"Not really! He's always knitting." "Why, everybody's satisfied?"
Complaint? Of course there ain't.

Misery and Happiness

He—Oh, Peggy, I shall be so miserable all the while I'm away from you.
She—Oh, darling, if I could be sure of that it would make me so happy!—London Mail.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

EXHUMED

By Bertie Braley
THE dinosaur is seen no more,
The dod is planted deep;
Old Cheops, bid in his pyramid,
Will never awake from sleep;
Hector is dust, his sword is rust,
Croesus, for all his luck,
Is laid away in the clammy clay;
But Willard is coming back!

METHUSELAH'S dead in an earthly bed
And Moses is 'neath the clod,
Samson the strong has joined the throng
Under the grassy sod;
Caesar is through, Napoleon too,
Will never again attack.
But out of the past a figure vast,
Jess Willard is coming back.

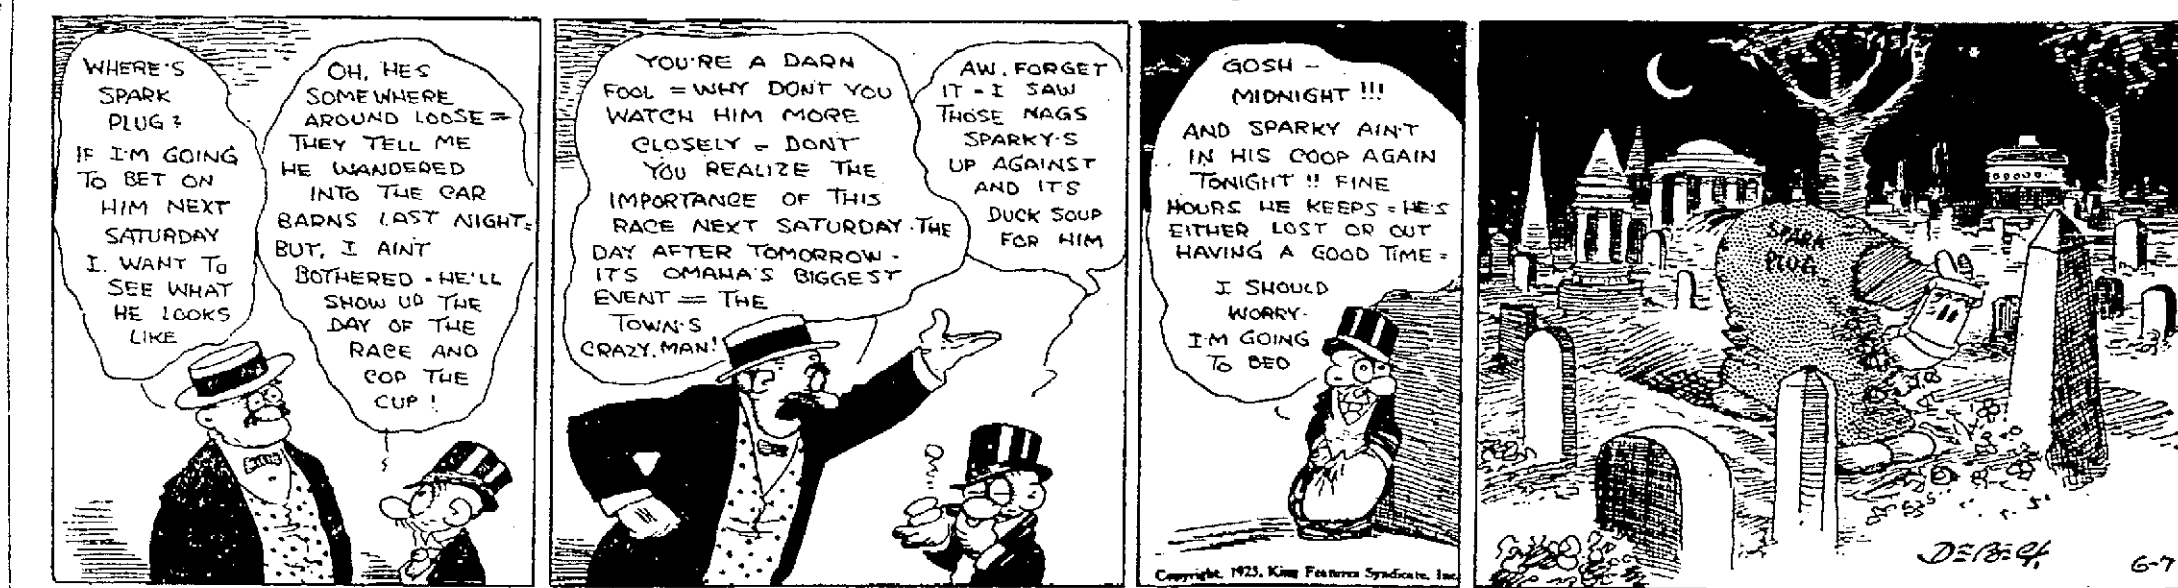

JACK DEMPSEY sits on his throne;
His mitts
Are idle, but none the less
He eyes the bulk of that mighty hulk
That's otherwise known as Jess.
I have a hunch that the Dempsey punch
Will furnish the final smack.
But miracles do at times ensue,
And Willard is coming back!
